SPECTACULAR FIRE SWEEPS APARTMENT BLOCK IN HAMILTON

Scores of Tenants Carried Down Ladders When Flames Destroy Big Building—Terrified Occupants Driven Into Streets in Night Attire
—All Lose Effects—Loss $1,000,000

HAMILTON, Ont., Dec. 6 (P).—Damage estimated in excess of $1,000,000 was caused early today by fire that destroyed the six-story Royal Market Apartments, in the heart of downtown Hamilton, chasing seventy-five tenants to the streets. It was believed no lives were lost.

At 1 o'clock, an hour after firemen started carrying tenants down aerial ladders, the fire was declared under control, but it was expected the city's fire-fighters would not put out the flames entirely until daylight.

WIND CARRIES EMBERS
A half-dozen stores, located on the ground floor of the apartment building, were destroyed with all their contents. For an hour, a strong wind carried embers over part of the city, threatening to start other fires.

Scores of persons were carried down ladders or assisted down fire escapes, while several elderly women were lowered with ropes to the street.

All traffic was paralyzed and telephone and power wires were brought down as blazing fragments of the building toppled.

OCCUPANTS TERRIFIED
Dense smoke poured from the windows when firemen arrived and terrified occupants shouted for help in the corridors.

One apartment tenant shouted for help from the top floor of the building after it was thought all had been rescued. Aerial ladders were shot up and he was rescued as flames licked through the lower floors.

None of the tenants saved belongings. Personal effects and furniture were left behind in every case as the frightened people were forced to get out, some in night clothing.

BANK CLERK IS HELD BY POLICE

Paul Lafleur Taken to Montreal for Questioning About Robbery

HULL, Que., Dec. 5 (P).—Paul Lafleur was taken to Montreal today for further questioning in connection with the gun-slaining yesterday of his bank-clerk companion, Armand Nadeau, and the theft of $20,000 belonging to the Banque Provinciale du Canada where both worked.

The twenty-nine-year-old accountant was held under a coroner's warrant signed by Dr. Joseph Isabelle, of Hull, after he had been questioned almost continuously for sixteen hours. Before he went, Quebec police drove him to the lonely sideroad, about two miles east of here, led him to the spot at which he told them Nadeau was shot and ordered him to re-enact step by step what happened yesterday.

CLOSELY GUARDED
What Lafleur showed police could not be learned. Officers guarded him so closely that even his lawyer, Paul A. Boivin, of Hull, engaged by friends, said he was unable to see him.

Boivin said he planned a vigorous protest to Quebec authorities. Robert Dagenais, Wrightville, Que., truck driver, appeared at police headquarters today. He said he was driving along the Montreal Highway behind the car in which the two bank employees were riding yesterday, and that he recognized Lafleur as the driver.

He added he saw nothing unusual in the attitude of the car occupants, Nadeau and Lafleur. He made no mention of having seen a third man, who, Lafleur told police, was threatening him and his companion with a gun.

ABRUPTLY HALTS REGINA MEETING

Chairman Says Technocrat Wasted Time Calling Audience Chisellers And Suckers

REGINA, Dec. 5 (P).—When Howard Scott, director of the Technocracy, Inc., was addressing an audience here Monday night, on "Technocracy," Dr. E. W. Stapleford, Regina College principal and chairman of the meeting, abruptly dismissed the audience just as Mr. Scott had concluded his address and questions were being asked.

Now Dr. Stapleford gives his reasons for closing the meeting. "I got fed up with the rot thrown at us," he explained. "Mr. Scott wasted half his time trying to prove that all of us were either chisellers or suckers, and banded away at everybody. I thought it was time to go home, people went there to learn something of technocracy."

WARNING TO JAPAN GIVEN

United States Secretary of State Calls for Respect For Treaties

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (P).—Japan was warned tonight by Secretary of State Hull that the United States Government does not look with equanimity upon the autonomy movement in North China.

In a formal statement, which followed close upon a sharper and even more pointed warning to Japan in the British House of Commons, the Secretary of State called upon "all nations" to respect existing treaties.

OBVIOUS MEANING
Hull did not mention the name of Japan, which generally has been credited with encouraging the move to separate the North China provinces from the Nanking Government, but his meaning was clear. His equally obvious reference also was to the Nine-Power Treaty. With Japan, Great Britain and the United States among its signatories, this pact guarantees both China's territorial and administrative integrity and the maintenance of the "open door" to foreign trade.

Wide speculation accompanied Hull's statement. It came almost on top of the assertion by Sir Samuel Hoare, British Foreign Secretary, that anything lending color to the belief that Japanese influence was behind the autonomy move, "can only do harm to the prestige of Japan."

POSSIBLY COINCIDENTAL
This perhaps coincidental concert of statements immediately recalled that Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, has discussed the Sino-Japanese crisis with Hull recently. Rumors that there might be some joint action in the Far East, however, have gone unconfirmed.

The Secretary of State's carefully-worded statement said: "Whatever the origin, whoever the agents, the facts stand out that an effort is being made, and is being registered, to bring about a substantial change in the political status and condition of several of China's northern provinces."

"Unusual developments in any part of China," he added, are rightly and necessarily of concern not alone to the Government and people of China, but to all of the many people and powers who have interests in China."

CLIPPER PLANE ON WAY TO CALIFORNIA

HONOLULU, Dec. 5 (P).—The trans-Pacific seaplane China Clipper started the last leg of its 16,000-mile flight from Alameda, Cal., to Manila and return when it took off from Pearl Harbor at 3:05 p.m.

Vancouver Strikers To End Waterfront Walkout on Monday

Men Will Be At Liberty to Offer Services to Hiring Agency After Six Months of Idleness, Says Spokesman for Strikers

VANCOUVER, Dec. 5 (P).—Vancouver's waterfront strike, six months' old tomorrow, will officially end next Monday at 8 a.m. when striking longshoremen will be at liberty to offer their services to the Shipping Federation of British Columbia, a spokesman for the central strike committee of the Longshore & Water Transport Workers' Association announced today.

In announcing the decision to call the strike off, the spokesman said the men would seek re-employment on the waterfront as individuals, but would retain their affiliations with the various union locals with which they were associated when they went on strike.

As the federation refused to recognize the strike unions after the strike was called, but repeatedly offered to take the men back as in-

Chinese Disturbed by Japanese Move

Unrest has again been created in the Far East by the recent move for an autonomous federated state in North China, considered to have been originated by Japan. Yesterday's simultaneous warnings to the Japanese were given utterance by Sir Samuel Hoare, British Foreign Secretary, during debate in the House of Commons and by United States Secretary of State Hull, in a formal statement. The above illustration shows Chinese crowding into Shanghai's Foreign Settlement, fearing Japanese trouble in the native city.

Mayor David Leeming Is Elected by Acclamation; New Record Established

Is First Chief Magistrate To Be Returned Five Successive Times

SEVENTEEN CONTEST NINE VACANT SEATS

Mayor David Leeming was signally honored by Victoria, yesterday, when he was elected to office by acclamation for a fifth consecutive term. He is the first chief magistrate in the history of the city to fill that post for five successive years.

"I deeply appreciate the honor that has been conferred upon me. It surely shows that the electorate has confidence in the administration, and I can only say that I will serve the citizens with the same conscientious application to all problems in the future as I have given in the past," Mr. Leeming stated, when informed of his election by acclamation.

In only one instance was a new candidate reported in the field, namely, John Wallace, of 2022 Richmond Avenue, who will run for

Attendance For Winter Fair Given

Officials of the Tourist Trade Development Association announced last evening that 4,910 persons attended the Winter Fair and Bazaar at the Armories on Thursday. Admissions on Wednesday, the opening day, totaled 3,280.

The fair will be open today from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight, and the same hours on Saturday, the closing day.

Jane's Fighting Ships Says World Launched on New Naval Race

LONDON, Dec. 6 (P).—The 1935 edition of the naval manual "Jane's Fighting Ships," published today just before the opening of the Naval Conference on December 9, declared the world is launched on a new race of naval construction. The publication, which contains pictures and descriptions of nearly every warship in the world, revealed for the first time the nature of the 26,000-ton German battleships now under construction at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven. These mysterious ships, the volume stated, are remarkable in that the type of very heavy gun, generally the fashion since 1905, has been abandoned. They will mount nine 11-inch guns.

Reeve A. Lockley Praises Fair on Esquimalt's Day

Head of Municipality Says Tourist Industry Is Most Important on Vancouver Island—Hopes District Will Combine to Develop Business—Exhibition Will Aid General Plan

"THIS well-arranged indoor fair will undoubtedly direct public attention towards work of the Tourist Trade Development Association," declared Reeve Alex Lockley, of Esquimalt, when he opened Esquimalt Day at the Winter Fair and Bazaar during a brief ceremony in the Armories, last evening.

HON. J. MALCOLM TAKEN TO REST

Former Minister of Trade Passed Away at His Home in Ontario

KINCARDINE, Ont., Dec. 6 (P).—Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce from 1926 to 1930 in the former King Government, died at his home here shortly after midnight. He was fifty-five years old.

Mr. Malcolm declined to take any active part in the last Federal election campaign, owing to ill health, with which he had been troubled since his youth. As recently as several weeks ago, he was mentioned by political observers as a possible choice for the post of Canadian ambassador to Washington.

DEATH UNEXPECTED
His death, according to reports early today, was unexpected. He had been living a life of retirement and his health, until comparatively recently, seemed improved.

Mr. Malcolm was born at Kincardine in July, 1880. He represented Bruce North in the House of Commons. Surviving are his widow and a sister, Mrs. A. T. Clarke, of Ottawa.

NEW PEACE APPEAL COMBINED WITH ASSURANCE OF FIRMNESS

Discover Sun Has Broken Out With Attack of Measles

SEATTLE, Dec. 5 (P).—Prof. T. S. Jacobsen, assistant professor of astronomy, said University of Washington students trained their telescope on the sun today and found it "broken out with measles." He said the telescope showed about 20 sunspots, the cluster being about 160,000 miles long. He explained they are collections of hot gases swirling like cyclones as they cool.

UNEASINESS INTENSIFIED

Chinese War Minister Is Warned by Japanese to Leave the North

PEIPING, Dec. 6 (P).—North China's uneasiness again stretched near the breaking point today following authoritative reports that General Ho Ying Ching, the Chinese Minister of War, had been warned by Japanese military authorities to leave the North immediately. This and other developments were viewed in many quarters as preludes to further outbreaks by autonomy agitators.

One barometer of popular concern, the rush by Chinese merchants to store their goods within the protective walls of the legation quarter here, was intensified. Storage space in garages, sheds and outhouses was being rented at "war time" rates.

HOPE STILL REMAINS
Chinese authorities were not abandoning hope of a settlement of the autonomy question as long as General Ho remains. Nevertheless, the new expression of Japanese activity was seen by observers as endangering Nanking's hold on North China, which it has attempted to retain by changes in the administration designed to make the area almost autonomous.

General Ho, said reliable quarters, has been informed by the Japanese military that if he remained in North China, to which he had come to install the Nanking reforms, he would complicate the situation.

Father of Ten Lost In Storm

CHURCHILL, Man., Dec. 5 (P).—Battling a blizzard, searchers tonight sought Simeon Johnson, cook in the staff house for the Department of Railways and Canals, who has been missing since Tuesday when he set out to go to Cockles Point, two miles across the Churchill River, at this northern seaport.

Johnson, whose wife and ten children reside at The Pass, Man., was making the trip alone to attend a birthday party. When he failed to return, Corporal Graves, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, organized search parties and started a hunt for him.

"Although Victoria and Esquimalt do not always see eye to eye on various matters, we in Esquimalt realize the value of the tourist industry to Vancouver Island. In fact it is at present the most important industry," the Reeve continued.

"A fair of this description, in my opinion, does a great deal of good in providing unusual entertainment and in showing the public just what home industry is accomplishing. I take my hat off to the Tourist Trade Development Association, and hope the day is near when Victoria, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich will

FOUR TRAPPED IN OHIO COAL MINE

Thirty-One Others Rescued After Explosion—Cause of Blast Is Not Known

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 5 (P).—Four men were trapped tonight in a coal mine at Wolf Run by an explosion. Thirty-one others were brought to the surface safely.

The cause of the explosion, which took place about 6,400 feet from the entrance, was not known. Rescue crews from the Bureau of Mines in Pittsburgh and surrounding coal companies rushed to the scene.

British Foreign Secretary Promises Another Great Effort to End Italo-Ethiopian Conflict While Renewing Pledge That Great Britain Will Play Her Part in League Action

Anthony Eden Optimistic in Views of League's Position

LONDON, Dec. 5 (P).—Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, addressed a new peace appeal to Italy today, but coupled with it an assertion that "this appeal is no sign of weakness."

Before a tense and crowded House of Commons, Sir Samuel joined to this plea a promise of "another great effort" to end the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, and a renewed pledge to "play our part" in any collective League of Nations' action to apply an oil embargo against Italy.

While he spoke, the battle cruisers Hood and Renown were preparing to steam out of Gibraltar, accompanied by four destroyers, on what the Admiralty described as "routine" manoeuvres in the Atlantic. They are expected to return about mid-December when others will also leave. Authoritative sources said the manoeuvres had no political significance and did not mean actual withdrawal of the warships from the Mediterranean.

EQUAL RESPONSIBILITY
In announcing support for the projected oil embargo, he said he wished to make it clear "that no one government is any more responsible than another for this collective de-

PLAN TO SOLVE CRISIS IN FIGHT

Italians Anxious to Force Decisive Battle Bringing Selassie to Terms

ROME, Dec. 5 (P).—Italy's African army plans to untangle the European crisis by forcing a decisive battle with Ethiopia and then confront Geneva with a war settlement signed by Emperor Haile Selassie, informed circles reported tonight. Friends said Marshal Pietro Badoglio, new commander-in-chief in Africa, had demanded and obtained an "absolutely free hand" to pursue such a course.

VICTORY FOR SOLUTION

These hopes were entertained in Rome that a big, swift victory over Ethiopia might solve Premier Mussolini's pressing problems. It is a race against time to win before rains bog down the armies or an oil embargo might spread the war to Europe, these sources declared. Some Fascist sources intimated an oil embargo would mean war on a broader section, while a spokesman said it would be regarded as a most unfriendly action.

Diplomats who know what the British and the French Governments are discussing said peace is possible as soon as and if Badoglio can smash the Ethiopians and give Il Duce Haile Selassie's signature to reasonable peace terms.

"REASONABLE TERMS"
"Reasonable terms" were said by one thoroughly-informed person to be Italian possession of a little more than she conquered, leaving Haile Selassie a homogeneous nation. A Government spokesman said, however, there have been no negotiations on this subject with Il Duce and that he saw "no reason for optimism in the present situation."

THREAT MADE TO BOMB BIG LINER

Police and Coast Guards Assigned To Special Duty on Arrival Of Bremen

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (P).—An anonymous report to police of a plot to bomb the German steamship Bremen, due at quarantine at 10 o'clock tonight, resulted in an order for "alert duty" to marine police and coastguardsmen.

Marine police headquarters said a force from their department would meet the ship at quarantine and be with her until she reaches the dock at 7:45 tomorrow morning.

The coast guard cutter Icarus was ordered to Ambrose Light to escort the Bremen to quarantine where the coast guard harbor tugboat Calumet awaited her. Two small patrol boats were ordered to keep a sharp lookout.

VANCOUVER'S FIRE BILL
VANCOUVER, Dec. 5 (P).—Fire losses in Vancouver in the first four months of the year 1935 amounted to $322,973, compared with $181,551 for the same period of last year, according to figures released today by Fire Marshal J. A. Thomas.

Prime Minister Is Expected to State Stand on Sanctions

Mackenzie King Returns to Ottawa After Holiday In South—Statement Expected on Canadian-Japanese Trade Dispute

OTTAWA, Dec. 5 (P.).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, back from a holiday in Georgia, spent this afternoon in conference with Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice and acting prime minister, and with others of his associates, at Laurier House. There will be a Cabinet meeting tomorrow.

Foremost among the subjects upon which Mr. King is expected to make official pronouncements within the next day or two are the question of Canada's stand toward sanctions against Italy, the Canadian-Japanese trade dispute, the appointment of a Canadian minister to Washington, and the Dominion-Provincial conference, which opens Monday.

IS MUCH RESTED

Arriving at noon today from the Summer-like environment in which he spent the last fortnight on the Georgia Coast, Mr. King seemed much rested and very fit.

Although the Government takes the stand, the statement last week denying responsibility for the sanctions, suggestions made at Geneva by Dr. Walter Riddell, Canadian permanent advisory officer at the League of Nations, left nothing open to be said, it is believed, that Mr. King will make some further announcement.

IS GOING TO CHILE

Dr. Riddell must leave almost at once to attend the International Labor Conference at Santiago, Chile, and it is anticipated that either Senator Raoul Dandurand, Minister Without Portfolio who is now in Europe, or Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner in London, will be appointed to act in his place on the League

Demonstrating Use of Gas Masks

Prince Carl, left, president of the Red Cross Society in Sweden, is shown intensely interested in a demonstration of the use of gas masks and clothing by nurses. There are 2,500 nurses training in Sweden for the purpose of becoming efficient in the use of protection methods against an attack by poison gas.

committee of eighteen, when it reconvenes December 12. Mr. Lapointe today denied that Dr. Riddell's departure for Chile had anything to do with his suggestion to the committee of eighteen on November 2, that oil, coal and iron be included in the list of commodities named in the sanctions against Italy.

BEFORE DISAVOWAL

The order-in-council assigning Dr. Riddell as Canada's representative at Santiago was passed November 22, eight days before the Government's disavowal of his sanctions suggestion. The Santiago Labor Conference opens January 2. Dr. Riddell is this year's chairman of the International Labor Office governing body.

Consideration of the agenda for the Dominion-Provincial Conference will be one of the subjects to be taken up at tomorrow's Cabinet Council. Settlement of the trade dispute between Canada and Japan is said to be practically completed, and decision as to the main points of compromise are awaiting the final approval of the Prime Minister.

dancers gave several typical Highland dances. Miss Florence Clough and her pupils executed a number of intricate classical dances.

BAFFLING ESCAPE

William Harkness, the Saitin-Glo magician, repeated his thrilling escape act from a locked steel cylinder while handcuffed and shackled. A large crowd of baffled spectators loudly applauded his mystifying feat.

Charm of Hollywood gave a beauty culture demonstration of the use of various skin and hair preparations. James Maynard, Ltd., held their moving display of walking, afternoon and evening shoes during the evening. Models, concealed except for their limbs, displayed ninety pairs of shoes on a miniature stage.

Many persons with tired feet visited the display of the Foot Health Shop. The booth contains a foot health oscillator, which gently massages the soles of the feet and promotes circulation. It is the only one of its kind in the province, it is said.

A. A. Sideleau, returned soldier and inventor, showed several models of a child's swing he calls the "Jubilee Swing Rocker." Two children sat facing each other and set the swing in motion by working small levers at the sides.

TURKEY WINNERS
Ticket holders awarded Christmas turkeys on Wednesday evening were: H. Worthington, 1360 Craigflower Road; H. Bond, 1207 Duke Street; Mrs. Hemming, 845 Princess Avenue; Mrs. E. Hamilton, 1021 Catherine Street; and Miss Bernice Miller, 367 Irvine Avenue.

Central Creameries, Ltd., prizes were awarded to Miss Mary Yearlay, 2940 Shelbourne Street; Mrs. Frank Waring, 1318 Hampshire Road; and Mrs. M. Joyce, 1036 Caledonia Avenue.

LOW WHEAT ACREAGE
BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 5 (P.).—The Argentine Department of Agriculture today estimated the area sown to wheat this season at 14,208,250 acres, the lowest acreage in ten years and 24.5 per cent under last year's acreage.

SAANICH DAY
Reeve William Crouch, accompanied by members of the Saanich Council, will usher in Saanich Day at the Winter Fair and Bazaar at 8 o'clock this evening, during a brief ceremony which will take place on the stage.

Black Diamond, the tiny purebred Shetland pony offered as first prize to the boy or girl selling the greatest number of tickets to the fair, paraded around the Armories all last evening in charge of a clown, answering to the name of Grimaldi.

Mrs. David Leeming, wife of the mayor, will present a number of valuable prizes to youthful ticket sellers at 8:15 o'clock Saturday evening. Besides the pony, they include puppies, goldfish, bantams, kittens and love birds.

Mrs. M. A. Foulds, of the B.C. Electric Railway, Ltd., home service department, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, demonstrated the cooking of grilled steak and mushrooms, baking powder biscuits and sweet milk chocolate cake. Copies of the recipes were distributed to 350 men and women who attended the demonstration. Mrs. Foulds will conduct another demonstration at the same time this afternoon.

Music was provided during the afternoon and evening by Fred "Slim" Hunter, Leo Holden, C. Perrelli, Frank Ellis and Al Reynolds, with his cabaret orchestra. Frank Partridge sang two songs. Lillian Grant and her Scottish

OLD MISTAKE IS CORRECTED

Councillor Hagan Settles Reserve Problem Created Seventy Years Ago

A mistake made by Saanich pioneers seventy years ago has been righted after twelve years' effort by Councillor L. C. Hagan, Ward Six Saanich council representative, and R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk.

The error made by the old-timers was in building Stellys Crossroad, east of the West Saanich Road, entirely on the Indian Reserve. The Indians claimed, and their contention was upheld by the Dominion Government, that Saanich had encroached on their territory.

Twelve years ago Councillor Hagan entered public life as Ward Six representative and opened his campaign to right the mistake made nearly sixty years before. Year after year his attempts to settle the matter, in co-operation with other municipal officials, failed. Meantime, an Indian had erected a home on Stellys Crossroad between Peden Lane and the West Saanich Road. The road-line ran directly through a corner of his home.

However, this year correspondence was interchanged and official action was taken by the Indian Department and the Saanich Council to bring the matter to a head.

PROPERTY SUBDIVIDED
Some years ago the British Columbia Electric Railway Company subdivided the property between West Road and Peden Lane fronting the Indian Reserve. A sixty-six-foot road, a continuation of Stellys Crossroad, was built between the two roads.

That left a road, having the same lines as Stellys Crossroad, running from Peden Lane to the sea. Saanich was not able to touch the property.

However, after twelve years' effort, the Indians and Saanich reached an agreement that the Indians were to have sixteen feet of the road, running from West Road to Peden Lane fronting the Indian Reserve, and the area taken from them by the pioneers on Stellys Road above the West Road.

The Indians in return built the tiny road from Peden Lane to the waterfront, on the same road line as previously which had been settled by white residents. The gesture of allowing the Indians to do the work, at a salary, brought about a spirit of co-operation between the Indians and Saanich Municipality.

Both Councillor Hagan and Mr. Sewell were warmly commended by the council for their work.

Packs of Wolves Becoming Menace

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man., Dec. 5 (P.).—Some apprehension was apparent here tonight that packs of timber wolves, numerous in this district this winter, might attack man. Half a dozen of the animals followed a miner for several miles, though they kept some distance away.

FINANCES BRIGHTER

Report on Collections of Current and Arrears Taxes Much Better

As the year draws to a close, the city's tax collection figures are taking on a much more encouraging aspect. D. A. Macdonald, comptroller and treasurer, reported yesterday that the percentage of collections on current accounts was ahead of last year, while in the tax arrears receipts a great gain has been made, so great in fact that the collections were expected to exceed the estimate for the year.

Up to December 3, when the final penalty went into effect on current tax accounts, a total of $1,265,948.56 was collected, as compared with $1,307,971.45 up to December 4, of 1934, when the final penalty went into effect in that year.

LOWER LEVY
The levy for 1934 was $1,747,382.19, as compared with $1,690,048.45 for 1933. This means that the money collected so far this year on current account is 74.96 per cent of the levy, as compared with 74.83 per cent of the levy last year.

Tax arrears collected so far amount to $297,348.11, as compared with $252,854.32 for the same period last year, an increase of $44,493.79 over last year's figure.

Mr. Macdonald pointed out that between December 4 and 31 of last year a total of $18,796.17 was collected in tax arrears, exclusive of tax sale and redemptions. "Assuming the same collection is made this year, the collection of tax arrears will be brought up to $316,134, which will be $5,000 more than was estimated. The estimate for the year was $311,200," Mr. Macdonald stated.

MAYOR RETURNED BY ACCLAMATION

the school board. At the close of nominations, the situation was left as follows: ten candidates seeking election to five vacancies on the council, and seven candidates seeking four vacancies on the school board.

There were no additions to the nominations for alderman to those already announced. Two more trustee candidates, however, filed their papers yesterday. They were as follows:

Alexander Marshall, 1275 Balmoral Road, agent, proposed by Reginald Hayward, 2140 Oak Bay Avenue, company manager; seconded by W. Alexander Jameson, 754 Broughton Street, manufacturer.

John Wallace, 2022 Richmond Avenue, retired; proposed by William Thomas Strath, 1524 Gladstone Avenue, lawyer; seconded by David Moore McCall, 334 Trutch Street, funeral director.

OTHER CANDIDATES
Others running for the school board, whose nomination papers already have been announced, are as follows: Charles R. Bishop, Kenneth Ferguson, F. G. Mulliner, A. C. Pike and Walter E. Staneland.

Major J. R. Riddell, who had announced he would run, withdrew after it was pointed out to him that he might not be able to qualify, owing to the fact that he receives a pension to which the city contributes.

Those contesting the five aldermanic seats are Aldermen P. R. Brown, R. A. C. Dewar, T. W. Hawkins, Alexander Peden and John A. Worthington; also Frank LeRoy, Alice E. McGregor, Stanley H. Okell, W. H. Sargent and Edward Williams.

The election will be held on Thursday, December 12, in the Public Market Building. The polls will open at 9 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. The public, in addition to being asked to vote for five aldermen and four school trustees, also will be asked to vote on the question of daylight saving time.

Old Frame Held Hidden Treasure

LISTOWEL, Ont., Dec. 5 (P.).—The back of an old wooden photograph frame broke and dumped $100 in bills into Mrs. George Jones' lap. The photograph had been bequeathed to her by her grandmother, Mrs. William Pointon, of Palmerston, and had spent many years lying in a trunk with other trinkets. Some of the bills dated to 1892 and the most recent was 1923. Mrs. Pointon died nine years ago.

FRANCE BUILDING NEW BATTLESHIPS

Keel of 35,000-Ton War Craft Laid Secretly at Brest Seven Weeks Ago

PARIS, Dec. 5 (P.).—The Naval Ministry revealed today that the keel of a new 35,000-ton French battleship had been laid secretly at Brest.

The announcement was seen by some naval experts as ending the possibility that an agreement might be reached at the London Naval Conference to reduce the displacement of capital ships to 25,000 tons, a proposal favored by Britain.

Construction has been under way for seven weeks, the ministry announced, in the same yard where the 26,500-ton battleship Dunkerque was launched on October 2.

U.S.A. AND OIL EMBARGO

An embargo on oil sent to Italy would be of little value unless it was participated in by Russia, the United States and Rumania. Italy gets 25 per cent of her oil imports from the United States. She gets two-thirds of the total of her requirements in this respect from Russia and Rumania. The balance, a very small percentage, is secured from the Anglo-Persian Oil Company. The United States does not seem to show any disposition to ban the export of oil, but Russia and Rumania, in notes to the League of Nations, have stated their willingness, provided that other countries do likewise. Both these latter countries know that if, without general application of the sanction, they stopped oil supplies to Italy the United States would snap up all the trade in this particular. Hence the delay there has been in dealing with this issue of League of Nations' action against Italy.

The whole question of sanctions is somewhat in abeyance because of the attitude of the United States. President Roosevelt, in the matter of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, has urged a spirit of neutrality. There is no neutrality where sanctions are imposed. The United States is not a member of the League of Nations, and there has been no attempt in that country to fall into line with other nations in their attitude towards the present war. The President of the Standard Oil Company declares his organization has been doing business with Italy for forty years and has no intention of stopping. Every day ships laden with oil are leaving New York for Italian ports.

Those who are impatient because the League of Nations has not imposed an embargo on oil are reckoning without the attitude of the United States, which will probably follow the same course as it did before it became a participant in the Great War, namely, that of selling all the materials possible to all belligerents. The League of Nations cannot force the hand of the United States in this matter, but the United States can render a decision on an embargo almost nugatory by increasing its oil exports to Italy and neutralizing the effect of other nations refusing such exports. The United States wants the trade and is not concerned with the attitude of the League of Nations, of which it is not a member.

FOSTER'S AMERICANIZATION

One of the provisions of Canada's reciprocity pact with the United States is that the duty imposed on American magazines and periodicals by the Bennett Government five years ago is removed. This means there will be a considerable increase in the circulation of American magazines in this country, applying to the good, bad and indifferent publications. Already it is noted that there will be a reduction in the subscription rates. This provision will necessarily mean a reduction in the circulation of Canadian publications, and the printing houses of Toronto and Montreal will suffer, because certain American magazines, in order to escape the duty, are now printed in Canada.

Canadian magazines will have very intensified competition in the future, and their lot is a hard enough one at present. The American publications that are in demand have huge circulations and great advertising revenues. The freedom accorded to them for circulation in this Dominion under the reciprocity pact means such an addition to the flood of American literature here that there will be a consequently greater handicap imposed on the development of Canadian magazines of a national character. The pact in this respect will tend to make our people more American-minded and add to the influence already exerted by moving pictures and radio broadcasting. Seemingly the Government at Ottawa sees no disadvantage in this, nor any disadvantage in the fact that there are some American publications which are decidedly anti-British in their flavor.

SAFEGUARDING PUBLIC HEALTH

The advance that has been made during the last decade or more in safeguarding the health of the Canadian people is the subject of a review in the late issue of The Canadian Health Journal by an official of the Department of Pensions and National Health at Ottawa. Development of a high standard of quality for all foodstuffs and drugs, the prevention of the entrance of adulterated and misbranded products and elimination of falsities in patent or proprietary medicines are among the major activities of the Department. By an act passed in 1927, which prohibited false and misleading statements on labels or collateral advertising, many fraudulent and dangerous remedies have been removed from the market. The number of registered preparations were reduced, in fact, to one-tenth. Prohibition has followed during the last twelve months of the sale of remedies for serious illnesses such as tuberculosis, cancer, diabetes, goitre, Erysipelas and some twenty other diseases. The uninvited and indiscriminate distribution of samples from door to door or through the mail, which had caused deaths of children, has been banned. Now a patent or proprietary medicine cannot be represented as a cure. Potent drugs must be declared, with the dosage on the label.

An improvement in the narcotic drug situation is reported by the writer mentioned. This has been effected by the co-operation of Canada with other nations through the International Agreement reached at Geneva at the second Opium Conference, whereby all chemical manufacturers in Europe are licensed and the export of all narcotics, such as morphine, heroin and cocaine, are restricted under export licence. Since 1919, when this Department was set up, the volume of import of these narcotics has dropped in the proportion of six to one. Smuggling through underground channels still prevails on the Pacific and Atlantic seaboard, but it has been materially reduced by international co-operation and the vigilance of Canadian officers of the law.

The quarantine service, such as is maintained at William Head near this port, is responsible for preventing the entry of infectious diseases into the country by shipping. Under international agreement made in 1926, diseases to be quarantined have been reduced to cholera, plague, smallpox, typhus fever and yellow fever. The Department administers the two leper stations at Bentinck Island, B.C., and at Tracadia, New Brunswick. Incoming immigrants are now examined at the seaport of embarkation, four medical officers being stationed for this purpose in Great Britain and Ireland and three on the Continent of Europe. Hospital service for sick mariners is another activity. Laboratory service is given to the Departments of Agriculture and of National Revenue. Departmental regulations have lessened typhoid fever cases on the lakes and rivers. Co-operation with the Provinces has raised the standard of public health throughout the Dominion. The Dominion Council of Health, of which the chief medical officer of each Province is a member, and which holds semi-annual meetings, acts as an advisory body to the Department.

ETHIOPIAN SPELLINGS

The New York Times is not the only newspaper perplexed over the spelling of Ethiopian names. There is seemingly no standard regarding these. The whole trouble appears to be that the Amharic language has no vowels and the consequence is that the interpretation of its words into English or other languages is largely a matter of choice. When war in Ethiopia was threatened the New York Times sought to secure from the National Geographical Society of Washington an authoritative list of the spelling of Ethiopian names and places. Such was not available, and the Geographical Society suggested the use of a British war map. This The New York Times accepted, but took exception in one particular, namely, the spelling of Adowa, a town on which it insisted as opposed to Adwa. This town was spelt in the former war in the campaign of 1896. It appears, too, that some 96 per cent of all the literature obtainable on Ethiopia gives the spelling Adwa. It is reported that on more than one occasion The Times cabled to the Emperor Selassie for confirmation of spellings. It cannot have helped that newspaper much if he replied in the Amharic language.

The rarest postage stamp in the world was recently placed on sale in London, but was withdrawn because no bid was high enough, and this despite the fact that a sum of $7,500 was offered. The stamp is the 1 cent of British Guiana of 1856, formerly in the possession of the late Mr. Arthur Hind, of Utica, N.Y., who bought it in the Ferrari sale thirteen years ago at a price of $7,350. This stamp was originally discovered by a schoolboy in a garret at Georgetown, British Guiana, and he sold it to a collector for six shillings. Now its estimated worth is some $10,000.

POEM FOR PILGRIMS

What matter though the road keeps winding upward all the way,
And though the end is ever out of sight?
What matter though the scene at hand should fill us with despair,
And prospects dim that once appeared so bright?
What matter though the progress made, the obstacles overcome,
Appear so little at the close of day?
Though other travelers we have loved and laughed with for a while,
Have one by one dropped silently away?
Still let us keep our pilgrim resolution
To meet misfortune with a happy heart;
To keep the vision of our youth before us,
And hold the faith that urged us at the start.
So at the last, our tale of miles completed,
Deep in our minds may this conviction grow,
That, though the pilgrim way was long and weary,
Its very steepness was a joy to know.

—R. D. Thompson, in Chambers' Journal.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

The capriciousness of our temper is even still more strange than that of fortune.—La Rochefoucauld.

Poets always have been and probably still are temperamental. Stars of the stage were temperamental during all the period they lingered more or less superfluous upon the boards which have become lumber. The stars of the screen are even more temperamental than the departed actors of the legitimate stage, for they have no fixed orbit and are eccentric in their movements as comets. Many men and women of great literary genius were extremely temperamental, and conventionally-inclined people like us never knew what they would be up to next. But none of the people of the temperamental classes were a nuisance to the world and did little harm except to themselves.

Today we have with us as a consequence of the development of democracy, degenerating into the development of a vicious form of autocracy, temperamental politicians, from which may the good Lord deliver us; for there appears to be no possibility of salvation from any earthly source. When politicians become temperamental the people also become temperamental and irrational, and lose all sense of reason and responsibility. We are not positive about this, but believe the first temperamental politician was Leon Trotsky, who led a political revolution in Russia, ordered the slaughter of the royal family, and either the slaughter or the exile of the nobility (whose nobility may not have been of a very high order).

The temperamental microbe flew over Italy and entered the blood of Mussolini, and the world has been called upon to deal with a second national dictatorship. The fever established in Italy made its way into Germany and produced a Hitler. Other dictatorships of minor proportions have been set up, but they have been of too little consequence to cause trouble. But do not assume that all the temperamental politicians are pursuing their devastating courses in the so-called effete countries of Europe. There are temperamental politicians in the United States, and there are a number of the fraternity in Canada. The bug has bitten leaders in certain movements in the United States, and attempts have been made to dictate the conditions under which the business of transportation and other businesses shall be conducted. In Canada attempts have been made to dictate the methods under which unemployment relief shall be administered.

The temperamental politician never counts the cost of the schemes he advocates. The most outstanding temperamental politician in Canada is Mr. Abernethy, whose strange mixture of political and religious heterodoxy has made the electors of the province so intoxicated with fanatical enthusiasm that they have made him Premier and actually expect him to redeem his promise of a pension of twenty-five dollars a month for every one, to be derived from nothing more substantial than a scratch of a pen. And the extraordinary thing is that the fame of the temperamental politician has become so widespread that people from other parts of Canada are flocking into the province for the purpose of establishing their eligibility to a monthly hand-out made out of nothing.

In the old days people of orthodox views were charged with stoning their prophets. Let us be charged with some offence of that kind, let us point out that the temperamental politicians have accomplished some things. They have defeated governments led by orthodox and untemperamental politicians. The first notable victory for temperamental politicians was won by Mr. Mitchell Hepburn in Ontario. The present Premier of Ontario is possibly the most temperamental of all politicians, with the exception of our own Mr. Gerald Grattan McGeer. Great stars of the opera and the stage were occasionally afflicted with what the hardened and unsympathetic managers called "the whimsies."

When in such a temperamental state of mind the luminaries of the artistic firmament dictated the terms upon which they would perform. They would tolerate no rivals. There is a suspicion, just hinted, that Premier Hepburn became ill and needed a vacation because he could not dictate to Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King the nature of the personnel of the present Dominion Government. Like a great classical champion, he sulked in his tent. Mr. Hepburn is coming back, but conditionally. The conditions probably will be proclaimed when the embattled Premiers meet the foe at Ottawa next week. The Mayor of Vancouver will be there at the head of a corps of other municipal representatives. His Worship of Vancouver left home with the City Hall in a state of chaos. He threw a bomb into the old edifice and blew the most important of the administrative force out of the windows. Then without attempting to clear up the mess he left for Montreal. Such is the price the voters pay for electing temperamental politicians.

Saving Our Eye Teeth
I see where another Victorian has scored in the field of science. This time it is Dr. Leroy L. Hartman, formerly of Victoria, and now professor of dentistry in the School of Dental and Oral Surgery in New York City. The dental scientist's discovery is a new pain-deadener. It is so effective that even drilling for filling will not cause that nervous or jittery feeling. And, by its application it is believed teeth will be saved that would otherwise have been extracted. In other words it is a "desensitizer" which enables the tusk-extractor to go as far as he likes—forceps, probes, drills, chisels, the works—without hurting you even a "little bit." Congratulations therefore must be extended to Dr. Hartman, who got his start right in this city.—J.D.

A Bit of Everything

Every Sunday a middle-aged man, accompanied by two comely women, trips down to Horseshoe Bay for a swim in the frigid salt chuck. Daily, the same man goes down for a swim alone. He must have Eskimo blood in his arteries. . . . Last Sunday a woman was observed powdering her nose during benediction in church. There is a proper time and place for everything. . . . On night this week a soldier in uniform dropped into a cafe for a snack. After filling his bread basket he departed with a civilian's hat surmounting the uniform. Inside the hat were two pictures which cannot be discussed in this column. . . . Along with many others, we miss the large illuminated clock which surrounded the Arcade Building. We hope it will be re-erected again so that we can check our Ingersoll now and then. . . . We have been asked to comment upon the fact that persons crossing streets with traffic lights fail to keep to the right between the painted lines. Somebody must have been watching us again.—G.B.

"My First Dollar"

"Did you ever thin turnips? Well, my first job was thinning turnips at a penny and a half for a hundred yards, piece work. That was at Dumbarton, outside Glasgow, in the '70's. I was eleven years old at the time, had passed six standards at school, and was attending night school besides. Later I was apprenticed for five years to a farmer at five shillings a week, herding cattle. I saved money on it, too. I worked nine hours a day, and sometimes more." Mayor of Victoria at one time, Minister of Finance at another, and successful business man for several decades, my informant is one who starts his day's work at eight o'clock in the morning and who can still drive a shrewd bargain.—S.G.

A CHECKING STATION

Sir,—As one who enjoys and makes much use of a push-bike on Victoria's paved roads, after years of riding on the gravel roads of the Prairies, might I suggest what seems to be a necessary convenience to many at the present time, a central checking station where one may leave his wheel in perfect safety. This could be open from perhaps 7 a.m. till midnight, every day of the week. A small charge of say fifty cents or even $1.00 a month ought to make such a scheme profitable to some one who has a room in a central part of the city.

W. M. M. TOUCHE,
R.M.D., 4, Victoria, B.C., December 3, 1935.

COOKING CLASS FOR BOYS

Sir,—May I, through your paper, suggest that a cooking class be started for boys in school. I know of two or three who are interested in cooking. A boy would feel like a "daddy" attending a class for girls, but I think he would enjoy it if it were arranged for boys. I think there could be enough interested picked from the schools of Victoria to make it worth while starting a class. Men cooks are still in demand.

RUTH E. HOGARTH,
2250 Lee Avenue, Victoria, B.C., December 3, 1935.

THE OIL SANCTION

Sir,—Dorothy Stuart's letter in today's Colonist sums up the situation admirably, in my opinion. The oil sanctions discussion is again postponed. Why? If Italy could not carry on the war in Ethiopia, without oil—how could she fight the great Powers against her?

And yet, we hesitate. The underlying cause is surely the necessary sacrifice of profits to carry out this enforcement. I don't blame the people; I blame the system—if one country refrains from selling oil to Italy, another will. It is the same with nickel and all raw materials. Everybody supports the sacrifice of the other fellow's profit, but finds some tremendous sound reason why he must not do the same. Again, I say, it is not our fault, it is the system and its continuance means war, ruin and misery to the world. Alas, these sanctions are indicating hardships on the Italian people as it is.

I notice the superstition as regards the curse on the tomb of Tutankhamen still persists. Why is it never mentioned that Howard Carter has not suffered from his association with the work on the tomb? Is it not possible that there are germs of some obscure disease still virulent, lurking in the walls which has attacked the men who have died and from which Howard Carter is immune?

Again and again man has attributed supernatural reasons to what has subsequently been discovered to be the operation of natural laws. (MRS.) ALICE COLCLOUGH,
View Royal, Esquimalt, B.C., December 3, 1935.

CONDUCT OF LIFE

Sir,—In November 27 issue is a good letter signed Kaid M. Harin, stating that Dr. Clem Davies was asked the question: "How can a person so conduct his life today that he will be in tune when the Kingdom of God is established upon the earth?" Your correspondent does not know the Doctor's answer, but suggests an answer, stating also she would greatly appreciate any correction.

Dear Editor, I do not wish to appear to be "correcting" her. The laws of the country allow everyone the right to his or her own opinion on these matters, and to serve God according to the dictates of one's own conscience; but with your permission I would express the following opinion, having been very much helped by some of Jehovah's faithful witnesses in the study of this subject.

She thinks in part that "no one living today will be alive at that very wonderful moment of the accomplishment of the Kingdom of God by our Lord Jesus Christ. When it will take place no one can tell, but from the time when the Lord comes for His church, until the Kingdom is set up, may be a long time and many strange happenings will take place."

My answer would be that all of Jehovah God's purposes are being carried out in His own due time, and according to Bible chronology His due time to set His King upon His throne was in 1914, so we are glad we are here in the beginning of the Kingdom of God on earth.

His first work is to break down the power of Satan and to utterly destroy him, which He is now doing, and Satan is furious, causing world-wide troubles, but even in this day of the morning of His Kingdom on earth the blessings are beginning to come.

The Adamic curse is lifted, so that if we will fall in line with the laws of the Kingdom of God on earth, children born now need not inherit the weakness of former generations. The new Kingdom provides maternity care, baby clinics, fairbridge farm homes, improved education along all lines which will eventually make solatiums, hospitals and undertakers unnecessary.

But these are only slight glimpses in the dawning of the morning. When Satan's great struggle is over, God says, "Then shall they (the people) know that I am the Lord."

Soon the Sun of Righteousness will shine out in His great glory, then the Kingdom will be "set up," or established, and the people will learn righteousness and be in harmony with God and His law of love.

But, the question is: How can I conduct my life today to be in tune when that time comes? The answer comes from the Bible. "What does the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" (Micah, vi, 8.) and to make known the glad news of the Kingdom as shown by many other scriptures. When those faithful men of old

A CHECKING STATION

Sir,—As one who enjoys and makes much use of a push-bike on Victoria's paved roads, after years of riding on the gravel roads of the Prairies, might I suggest what seems to be a necessary convenience to many at the present time, a central checking station where one may leave his wheel in perfect safety. This could be open from perhaps 7 a.m. till midnight, every day of the week. A small charge of say fifty cents or even $1.00 a month ought to make such a scheme profitable to some one who has a room in a central part of the city.

COOKING CLASS FOR BOYS

Sir,—May I, through your paper, suggest that a cooking class be started for boys in school. I know of two or three who are interested in cooking. A boy would feel like a "daddy" attending a class for girls, but I think he would enjoy it if it were arranged for boys. I think there could be enough interested picked from the schools of Victoria to make it worth while starting a class. Men cooks are still in demand.

THE OIL SANCTION

Sir,—Dorothy Stuart's letter in today's Colonist sums up the situation admirably, in my opinion. The oil sanctions discussion is again postponed. Why? If Italy could not carry on the war in Ethiopia, without oil—how could she fight the great Powers against her?

And yet, we hesitate. The underlying cause is surely the necessary sacrifice of profits to carry out this enforcement. I don't blame the people; I blame the system—if one country refrains from selling oil to Italy, another will. It is the same with nickel and all raw materials. Everybody supports the sacrifice of the other fellow's profit, but finds some tremendous sound reason why he must not do the same. Again, I say, it is not our fault, it is the system and its continuance means war, ruin and misery to the world. Alas, these sanctions are indicating hardships on the Italian people as it is.

I notice the superstition as regards the curse on the tomb of Tutankhamen still persists. Why is it never mentioned that Howard Carter has not suffered from his association with the work on the tomb? Is it not possible that there are germs of some obscure disease still virulent, lurking in the walls which has attacked the men who have died and from which Howard Carter is immune?

Again and again man has attributed supernatural reasons to what has subsequently been discovered to be the operation of natural laws. (MRS.) ALICE COLCLOUGH,
View Royal, Esquimalt, B.C., December 3, 1935.

CONDUCT OF LIFE

Sir,—In November 27 issue is a good letter signed Kaid M. Harin, stating that Dr. Clem Davies was asked the question: "How can a person so conduct his life today that he will be in tune when the Kingdom of God is established upon the earth?" Your correspondent does not know the Doctor's answer, but suggests an answer, stating also she would greatly appreciate any correction.

Member of Games Committee Given Hostile Reception

Crowd in Toronto Demonstrates Against Werner Haag on Opening of German State Railways Office—Two Men Under Arrest—German Workers and Farmers' Body Blamed

TORONTO, Dec. 5 (P).—Two men were arrested as a squad of police tonight dispersed a crowd of 150 persons who gathered outside a downtown hotel to demonstrate against Werner Haag, member of the organizing committee of the eleventh Olympic Games at Berlin, who opened an office here today.

Shouting "Down with Nazis," "Down with Werner Haag," carrying banners and placards which said "Keep Nazi Spy Out of Canada," "Hitlerism Means War," the band, believed to be composed of members of three radical associations, took up a position in a lane at the rear of the hotel.

Police arrived on the scene and tried to make the crowd move on. One blonde young woman stood with her back against the wall of the hotel and refused to budge, while the others milled about. A policeman tried to push her along.

"I won't move," she cried. "Down with the Nazis."

Two more uniformed policemen joined the first and they picked her up bodily and carried her away from the rest of the crowd.

That seemed to be the signal for renewed agitation from the demonstrators. The shouting and shoving increased. Police became more vigorous. In a few minutes after that the lane and the street nearby were cleared away and two men were under arrest. They were Peter Kozak, twenty-four, charged with obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duty, and Morris Dooko, twenty-three, charged with intimidating a police officer in the performance of his duty.

GERMANS RESPONSIBLE
Police said the leading organization of those demonstrating was the Toronto German Workers and Farmers' Association.

Werner Haag opened the first Canadian office of the German State Railways today and held a reception in connection with the opening. About 100 persons attended.

Associated with the work of promoting tourist traffic in Germany is the business of the organizing committee for the next Olympic Games.

JEALOUSY LED TO DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Nelson Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict of Murder and Suicide

NELSON, Dec. 5 (P).—A verdict of murder and suicide was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday investigating the deaths of Gordon Palmer, twenty-year-old Willow Point farmer, and John David, farm hand.

Palmer was shot through the back while pitching hay in a barn on the A. H. Noakes property at Balfour, near here, Saturday. David's body, with a bullet wound in the head, was found the next day hanging from a highway bridge several miles distant. Nearby was a new 22-calibre rifle which had been recently purchased in Nelson.

Evidence indicated that David was jealous of Palmer's approaching marriage to Grace Noakes and that he had also intended to take her life. David had worked on the Noakes farm for some time.

DISCUSSING AIR ROUTES

Officials of Four Nations Consider Atlantic Services At Washington

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (P).—Pan-American Airways tonight was reported ready to start flying the Atlantic as soon as international negotiations, now in progress, provide landing fields abroad.

Postal and aeronautical officials of four nations are meeting here with the ultimate objective of reaching an agreement which will open the airports of each to the flyers of all Great Britain, Canada, Ireland and the United States were represented.

"We've got our eyes open, and we're going to get a line over there just as quickly as we can," a Pan-

American official said. "These international complications are blocking us now, but just as soon as they are settled, we'll begin experimental flights."

"They're necessary. We'll have to try all the routes and pick out the one that seems best. Maybe we'll have to use one route for one season of the year and another for others, because of varying weather and atmospheric conditions. The experimental flights will show us what is best."

The company which operates the "Clipper Ship" service across the Pacific, was said yesterday by Postmaster-General Farley to be the only United States concern interested in installing regular transatlantic air service.

SOLD LEAD FOR GOLD

SUBURRY, Ont., Dec. 5 (P).—Magistrate J. S. McKessock sentenced Mike Blych yesterday to two years' imprisonment upon conviction of attempting to sell gilded lead as high-grade ore. Tony Garbo, convicted as an accomplice, was sentenced to six months' determinate and six months' indeterminate.

SETTLEMENT IS IN SIGHT

South Australian Unions Recommend Return to Work While Arbitrating

MELBOURNE, Dec. 5 (P).—Settlement of the seamen's strike on the South Australian coast is within sight today.

Sixteen transport unions in conference here recommended today that the men should return to work and approach a court of arbitration for redress of their grievances.

The Federal Government's forty-eight-hour ultimatum to the strikers, due to expire today, was yesterday extended pending arbitration meetings of the Trades Union Council here and at Sydney. It is expected the union leaders will induce the men to accept the recent Federal award to which the seamen objected.

The Seamen's Union has already expressed willingness to negotiate with the shipowners on the basis of a forty-eight-hour week and the elimination of what it termed objectionable clauses in the award affecting working conditions and overtime rates.

The strike has already laid up forty vessels at Melbourne, while twenty are idle in the harbors of Sydney and Newcastle. The Government ultimatum threatens to introduce a system of licensing seamen and other drastic measures.

well-attended congregational rally of Fairfield United Church on Wednesday evening. Another interesting item was the presentation of an illuminated address to Frank A. Wardle, who has been for many years a highly useful member of the congregation and who is about to take up his residence in Trail.

A satisfactory state of church finances as compared with last year was reported by J. Armstrong, the church treasurer, who announced that a handsome contribution had been made by the Women's Auxiliary.

An entertaining programme was given under the direction of A. C. Pike and Thomas Hocking, that was framed after the Major Bowes amateur hour. The chairman of the meeting was J. Johnstone, and the minister, Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry, spoke briefly at the close.

RADIO MODELS

The Dominion Government has taken definite steps to reduce prices of certain commodities in Canada. Acting in complete accord with our Government's apparent desire, and despite the fact that the reciprocal trade agreement with the United States will not become effective until January 1, 1936, RCA Victor—in its position as leader of the radio industry—today announces a reduction in the list price of its current radio models.

In view of the wide publicity given to the reciprocal pact, we should like to bring to the attention of the Canadian public certain specific details of the situation as they affect the manufactured cost of RCA Victor Radios.

RCA Victor Radios are manufactured in Canada entirely by Canadian labor and almost entirely from Canadian materials. And the cost of the imported parts of the set, as compared to the total cost, represents but a very small proportion of the finished product.

As a consequence, the reduced prices announced below anticipate, and more than equal, any such reductions in cost as will be created by the revised tariffs. Canadian purchasers, we are sure, will appreciate the fact that the new price structure has been met by RCA Victor. Assurance of stabilized value is the soundest and most satisfying assurance a purchaser can have.

Why RCA Victor
Radios are the Best Buy at any PRICE!

From the great laboratories of RCA Victor have come the greatest, most modern radio developments of the day... radios that stand alone for proven performance, for tone, for world-wide reception. Only RCA Victor can offer you the famous all-wave "Globe Trotter" Radio with Magic Eye, Magic Brain and Metal Tubes... dual-wave "Globe Trotters" that make European reception a reality... standard-wave "personal" radios... and standard and dual-wave battery-operated receivers.

Always remarkable for value, RCA Victor Radios today are absolutely outstanding for value and quality. Visit your RCA Victor dealer—you will appreciate how much more RCA Victor offers you for every dollar!

BOWKER CREEK BIG PROBLEM

Provincial Water Commissioner Will Be Asked to Help in Matter

Steps will be taken by the city to have the Bowker Creek drainage problem solved by the Provincial water commissioner's department.

H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, at present is investigating Oak Bay's legal responsibility in the matter, but has yet to make a report to the council.

It appears, however, that the whole drainage question is quite involved, inasmuch as Saanich, Victoria and Oak Bay have all done work on the creek.

The Provincial water commissioner will be asked to untangle the problem and suggest some way out so that improvements can be made, and proper drainage given to those menaced by flood conditions.

CHARGE FOLLOWS STREET ACCIDENT

Automobile Driver Says Her Car Refused to Make Turn and Hit Street Car

Mrs. Jessie Anderson was charged in the city police court yesterday with driving to the common danger when the automobile which she was driving collided with a street car on Superior Street about 7:30 on the evening of November 7. Considerable damage was done to the street car and the automobile of the defendant was practically demolished.

The evidence of Mrs. Anderson was taken, but other evidence was postponed until today. H. W. R. Moore is counsel for the defendant, while Ralph Mathews appears for the B.C. Electric Company, and C. L. Harrison for the prosecution.

The evidence of F. W. Doherty, driver of the street car, was that a short distance from St. Lawrence Street, as he was going towards the city, in charge of an Outer Wharf car, the defendant turned suddenly and ran into the street car.

The testimony of Mrs. Anderson was that she turned her auto from the curb to pass a parked car. She went onto the street car tracks thinking she had plenty of time to turn back without colliding with the street car. When she attempted to turn she said, the auto failed to respond to the wheel. Her nephew had complained of the steering of the auto, but she had never experienced any difficulty before. To Mr. Harrison, she admitted there was room to pass the parked car without going onto the car tracks and, perhaps, she was not right in going so far over.

Mrs. Anderson was rendered unconscious when the collision occurred. Mr. Mathews, who was in the car and who will appear as a witness today, suffered injuries which required hospital attention.

ROCK LOCATIONS

OFFER TROUBLES

Sewer propositions offer trouble to members of the Oak Bay Council. Some locations in the district require heavy rock cutting if sewerage arrangements are to be carried out as desired.

One of these is the Unsworth property, in the vicinity of the Beach Hotel. The price of $1,200 was submitted by the engineering department. Further information will be sought with regard to finding a solution of the difficulty.

Another difficulty arises from a communication from the Royal Trust Company, trustees for the Robert Fowler estate, with property on Gonzales Hill. The Williams property near by is served with a sewer passing through the Fowler property.

In order to overcome the difficulty, the municipality is being asked to expropriate an easement across the Fowler property. The Oak Bay Council is prepared to take this action provided the Williams estate assumes the necessary costs.

Bay Complaining

Of Odor From Sea

Complaints are being registered by residents along the water front of Oak Bay of obnoxious odors blowing in from the sea and clam sewerage from the city is the cause.

T. Watt, the superintendent of works for the municipality, offered the opinion to the council that the continuous fine weather with no storms to stir up waters of Oak Bay is accountable for the prevalence of odor. He said that a specially high tide on Sunday might lessen the trouble.

The health officer informed the council he investigated the situation and expressed the opinion there was nothing dangerous from a health standpoint.

MEDICAL PLAN IS REJECTED

Saanich Council Turns Down Suggestion of Victoria Medical Society

Saanich Council, last night, refused to agree to a proposal submitted by the Victoria Medical Society, that a flat monthly rate be paid for the care of indigent patients. The council reached its decision after hearing a delegation from the society, with Dr. R. L. Miller as spokesman.

Dr. Miller intimated members of the Victoria Medical Society would not, in future, care for municipal indigent unless municipalities contributed to their treatment. "I am not in favor of the scheme, and if our medical health officer cannot handle all the work then I will recommend to the council we take on a part-time man," Reeve Crouch stated.

Victoria referred the plan to the 1936 council and Oak Bay tabled the matter pending further details, it was stated.

TO BALLOT ON ZONING BY-LAW

Saanich Ward Three Proposal Is to Be Considered As Plebiscite

The proposed Ward Three zoning by-law, designed to restrict erection of certain buildings, principally greenhouses, will be submitted as a plebiscite at the January elections. It was intimated at the Saanich Council meeting last night.

Councillor A. G. Lambriek and Municipal Clerk R. F. Sewell were appointed to confer with municipal legal authorities and draft a new by-law for presentation to the council at its December 19 session.

Reeve William Crouch intimated the revised by-law would be presented as a plebiscite in Ward Three.

DIVISION OF WARD

The original by-law called for division of the ward into four sections with different regulations for each. However, the council maintained such a zoning by-law would be cumbersome and ineffective.

It was explained the proposed by-law contained various legal entanglements and that a more clarified and simpler measure was desired.

City and District

Saanich Liberals—The Saanich Liberal Association will hold its monthly meeting in headquarters, Douglas Street, at 8 p.m. on Monday, December 9.

Will Sell Lot—The Oak Bay Council has agreed to sell Lot 1, Map 1,147, to G. A. Potts for $200. This is slightly below the assessed value of the lot.

Prepare for Election—At the Oak Bay Council meeting yesterday, R. F. Blandy was named as returning officer for the coming municipal election, with A. D. Findlay as his assistant.

Chief Justice Here—Supreme Court Chambers yesterday were conducted by Chief Justice Morrison, who had come here to preside following the holding of the Assize sitting at Nanaimo.

Veterans to Meet—A meeting of the First Canadian Pioneer Association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Army and Navy Veterans headquarters, Fort Street. All members are requested to be present.

Plan Beer Plebiscite—The Nelson division of Nelson-Creston riding will vote on the question of sale of beer by the glass, on December 20. C. W. Lowther, of Creston, has been named returning officer for the poll.

Ward Three Liberals—The Ward Three Liberal Association meeting, scheduled to be held tonight in the Liberal headquarters, has been postponed until December 20, when matters arising out of the central executive meeting will be discussed.

Postpone Dance—The Pipe Band of the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, yesterday announced that its dance, to have been held in the Armories this evening, has been postponed until December 20.

Social Credit League—Application has been made to the British Columbia registrar of companies for incorporation of the Social Credit League of British Columbia, with headquarters suggested at Vancouver.

Meeting Cancelled—No meeting of the Sketch Club of the Island Arts and Crafts Society will be held Monday, as an exhibition of water colors is being held all week in the society's room in the Metropolitan Building, Courtney Street.

Lantern Lecture—A lantern lecture will be given tonight under the auspices of the Central Baptist Young People's Society on "The Trials and Triumphs of Taking the Gospel to the Pacific Tribes of Central Africa," by Rev. E. J. Pudney, of the Unevangelized Fields Mission. Slides will be shown of the lecturer's experience in Africa.

Granted Remand—Charles Gould was before Magistrate Jay yesterday morning in the city police court on a charge of being unlawfully in a dwelling room in the Devonshire Hotel by night. On his own request for a remand, he was granted an adjournment until this morning, when he will again be before the magistrate on the charge.

Charged With Theft—Reginald Brown, charged with having stolen perfume under the value of $25, asked a remand until Saturday when he appeared in the city police court yesterday. The delay was considered too long and he was granted a remand until this morning only, when the case will be spoken to.

Better Relations—The recent Canada-United States reciprocity agreement will tend to increase the friendly relations existing between the two countries, in the opinion of R. L. Brackett, of Portland, who sailed yesterday for Australia.

Would Revise Committees—Councillor W. Ellis, of Oak Bay, would like to see some revision of the committees of the council, and with this in view, proposes to request next year's reeve when drafting committees to effect some changes. In the case of the tree committee, it was pointed out by the councillor that before action could take place on the recommendation of that body, it was generally necessary for the public works committee to pass upon it. He will suggest that a public parks and municipal buildings committee be named to take over considerable of the work done now by separate committees.

British Fair—Great Britain's annual British Industries Fair, which attracts thousands of buyers from many countries of the world yearly and is regarded as a mighty stimulant to trade, will be held at Olympia (the White City), London, and Birmingham for two weeks in 1936, commencing February 17, according to information received at the local office of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Premier Is Thanked—The following communication has been forwarded to Premier T. D. Pattullo by Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle, secretary of the Victoria Ministerial Association: "The Victoria Ministerial Association wishes to express its appreciation of your decision not to take present action in connection with the petition for the sale of beer and light wine in hotels and restaurants of this province, assuring you of our fullest co-operation."

Watching Events—J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, and J. A. Grant, of the Provincial Marketing Board, are now at Ottawa on behalf of the British Columbia Government. Hon. K. C. Macdonald intimated yesterday. The British Columbia officials are keeping in contact with Federal officials in regard to marketing problems, and also the effects of the new reciprocal trade agreement with the United States.

Exemptions Given—Exemptions for male and female employees in the fruit and vegetable industry, in packing and sorting products damaged by frost, from orders of the board passed in April last were contained in two orders gazetted yesterday by the British Columbia Industrial Relations Board. The effect of the exemption is that producers in the Okanagan can resort to damaged fruit without burdensome double costs, it was explained by officials of the board.

Returns From Convention—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation will open a national office at Ottawa shortly under the control of E. J. Garland, it was said yesterday by J. S. Taylor, C.C.F. member-elect for Nanaimo in the Federal House, who returned from a meeting of national officials at Winnipeg. The C.C.F. he declared, was pressing for extension of the relief inquiry into the trek of relief camp strikers, and had instructed provincial councils of the party to oppose any lowering of the standards of living.

Suggest Co-operation—A delegation of the medical men of the city waited upon the Oak Bay Council yesterday to see if something could be done by co-operative action respecting the care of indigent cases in the municipality that might require medical attention. The matter will be considered by the council upon receiving a draft plan from the doctors showing the basis of such an arrangement, and following this the medical men will be advised when a discussion can take place.

Fine Is Imposed—Herbert Vye and Sacan Singh were jointly charged, in Saanich police court yesterday, with allowing cattle to run at large, contrary to the Saanich by-law. The first named is the owner of the cattle, while the latter was in charge of them. The cattle, twenty-one in number, were found on Richmond Road. Sgt. P. K. Cummings said there were frequent complaints about the cattle running at large. Chief Allan Rankin reported there had been five convictions against the owner on this score since 1930. A fine of $25 was imposed upon the owner.

Late for Cousin's Wedding in Honolulu

—Photograph by Associated Screen News.

DEMURE, diminutive Miss Jennifer Greenwood, late for the Watson-Dawson wedding in Honolulu, snapped among the chrysanthemums in the conservatory at the Empress Hotel, where she was making a forced stop-over. Niece of Mr. W. P. W. Turner, British Consul at Honolulu, she left England aboard the Aquitania, with her cousin, Miss Gwynedd Watson, of London, who is to marry Mr. Geoffrey Dawson, of the C.P.R., in Honolulu today.

The Aquitania, delayed by heavy weather, was a day late into New York. The bride flew to Chicago and then to St. Paul through a snowstorm to make connections with the C.P.R. Empress of Japan at Victoria. Miss Greenwood followed by train with nine cases of wedding presents and an elaborate tropical trousseau, minus of course the wedding dress, which the bride had managed to take along on her plane trip.

Miss Greenwood lives at Elstree, is a musician—plays flute and piano and sings—she is also a ballet dancer of the Coeche school.

Oak Bay W.A. Has Election

Mrs. A. J. Gerry was unanimously re-elected president of the Oak Bay United Women's Auxiliary at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. George Wilkinson was chosen first vice-president; Mrs. J. Fox, second vice-president; Mrs. Sydney Johnson, secretary; Mrs. W. Agar, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Hudson, Mrs. S. Bartlett, programme committee; Mrs. J. Sutton, flowers; Mrs. G. Cordner, Sunshine Inn; Mrs. G. Wilkinson, organist, and Mrs. Johnson, linen convener.

Thanks were extended to all friends who had supported the W.A. during the past year and to The Colonist and Times for publicity. During the business meeting, Mrs. Gerry presided, when a donation was made to the sinking fund. It was arranged that a meeting be held once a month to sew for worthy causes. Mrs. A. Tinker, Wilmer Street, kindly offered her home for these meetings. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. G. B. Switzer. The next meeting of the W.A. will be held on the second Thursday in January.

Quadra Primary School Concert Is Big Success

An enjoyable concert was held in the George Jay School auditorium yesterday evening by the Quadra Primary School, when students of the school and assisting artists gave a varied programme of entertainment. Trustee W. T. Straith officiated as chairman.

Tableaux, plays and playlets, dances, songs, elocution, magic, instrumental numbers and other types of entertainment made up the programme. Those who took part in the concert were Miss B. Fraser, Barbara Oakley, the Wyatt sisters, Eileen Chaster, Gwyneth Phillips, Sylvia Birkett, Velma McLorie, Jean Fox, June Short, William Chester, Evelyn McLaren, Jean and Flossie Ray, Iris Pembroke, J. L. Cow, Enid Cole, Dorothy Smith, Ethel Gillis, Ilce Roskelley, Edward Spencer, Mary Richards and Pipe-Major Donald Cameron.

Sketch Club Shows Work To Friends

Members of the Sketch Club of the Arts and Crafts Society and their friends showed great interest in the first annual Christmas exhibition held at the new clubrooms, Metropolitan Block, yesterday afternoon. Between eighty and ninety guests attended and inspected the interesting display of water-color paintings of gardens, mountains and harbor-shipping scenes selected from the Sketch Club's work done during the summer.

In addition to the water-colors, there was a display also of calendars and Christmas cards, the majority of which illustrated some attractive Vancouver Island spot. Orders for several of these were given by people who wanted to send them to the Old Country and Eastern Canada.

Among the Sketch Club members represented in the 100 or more pictures were Miss C. I. Alexander, Miss J. Crease, Miss G. Woodward, Miss Palmer, Miss Lettice, Miss Maude Bruce, Miss Freeman and Mesdames W. B. Young, Hobbs, Unity Baile, Dorothy Woodward, David Reid, Shepherd, Percy Fletcher and Charlton.

ATTRACTIVE ROOMS

The attractive new rooms, entrance to which is off Courtney Street (corner of Government Street), are admirably adapted to small parties, tea being served at small tables set about the studio. Mrs. David Reid and Mrs. Shepherd had charge of the tea, and Miss Woodward, convener of the Sketch Club, had charge of the general arrangements.

One of the specially-admired pictures was that by the late Miss Georgina Newton of Emerald Lake and Mount Burgess, this having been presented to the club the previous evening by the retiring president, D. S. Cameron, on behalf of Miss Newton's sister, Miss F. M. Newton.

Clubs-Societies

Daughters of St. George

Daughters of St. George, Victoria Lodge No. 83, held its business meeting in the S.O.E. Hall on Wednesday evening, with the worthy president, Mrs. Gaiger, in the chair. Mrs. Gaiger extended a welcome to members of Princess Patricia Lodge No. 238. A splendid report of the bazaar was read. A large crowd was present to witness the final installation of the officers. The worthy district deputy, Mrs. E. Jane, was escorted into the hall by the worthy supreme conductors, Mrs. A. Harris and Mrs. K. Berrett. The following officers were installed: Worthy president, Mrs. Hooper; past president, Mrs. Gaiger; vice-president, Mrs. Gilles; financial secretary, Mrs. Reid; treasurer, Mrs. Pitney; recording secretary, Mrs. Porter; chaplain, Mrs. White; first conductor, Mrs. Nunn; second conductor, Mrs. Haines; inside guard, Mrs. Lomas; outside guard, Mrs. Burnett; pianist, Mrs. Veach, and captain of the guard, Mrs. E. Skelland. After the officers were installed, the worthy president, Mrs. Hooper, presented the worthy district deputy with a lovely bouquet of flowers. The past president received a bouquet of flowers and a casserole in a silver stand, and the captain of the guard, Mrs. E. Skelland, received a lovely bouquet of flowers. Refreshments were served under the convener'ship of Mrs. W. Adams.

ST. MARY'S

St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. held a business meeting in the hall on Wednesday. A report of the badminton convener was read, also the report of the Provincial conference, held at Vancouver in October. George Bennett was elected to attend a meeting of the Columbia Coast Mission committee. The nomination of Miss Wilkinson as a new member was received. Next week there will be a speaker, and refreshments will be served. Each member is asked to bring a friend and a good attendance is hoped for. The branch has been invited to attend an "at home" at St. Mark's on Friday, December 13.

ST. JOHN'S

Through the courtesy of Mr. C. F. Banfield, St. John's Association was afforded the opportunity of seeing the operations of practically all the machinery at the King's Printer's department at the Legislative Buildings. Just before the parties started on the tour of the plant, Mr. Banfield briefly outlined the history of the King's Printers. The next meeting will take the form of an "at home" in the schoolroom on Monday, at 8 p.m., when all branches of the city will be guests.

Wilkinson Road W.M.S.

A well-attended meeting of the W.M.S. of Wilkinson Road United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Albert Allison presiding. After the secretary's report was read by Mrs. Nott, the roll call was answered by each member quoting a favorite quotation or verse of Scripture. Annual reports by secretaries showed progressive work accomplished in every department. Mrs. J. Edge reported on Christian stewardship; Mrs. W. J. Jewell on supplies; Mrs. D. Phillips, literature; Mrs. W. Allan, G.O.I.T. work; Mrs. S. Jones, associate helpers; Mrs. Mrs. G. Jones, strangers' table; Mrs. reported having made a total of sixty-two visits during the year. Miss Anne Allan, press secretary, also expressed appreciation of the courteous way in which the local newspapers published the reports of the meetings. The treasurer's report by Mrs. H. S. Pringle, showed the financial allocation almost completed. This being the Christmas season, inspiring addresses were given by Mrs. J. Hood and Mrs. Graham, of the Victoria Presbyterian. A vocal solo, "The Holy City," by Miss H. Barr, accompanied by Miss Margaret Pringle, and a selection by the Wilgar Choral Club, led by Mrs. Rush and accompanied by Miss G. Riche, were greatly appreciated. Refreshments were served.

Baptist Bazaar

Christmas decorations made a lovely background for the many attractive stalls arranged by the Women's Union of First Baptist Church for the bazaar, held Wednesday afternoon, in the church schoolroom. The platform was massed with poinsettias and primulas, centred with a large basket of pink and white chrysanthemums. The decorations were under the direction of Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw, the general convener. The stalls were as follows: Miscellaneous, Mrs. Angus Galbraith; aprons, Mrs. W. Richardson and Mrs. F. Waller; novelties, Mrs. Queenie Tabor; discarded books, Mrs. V. McHallam; home cooking, Mrs. R. J. Carter. Afternoon tea and supper were served under the convener'ship of

On Monday evening, at Margaret Jenkins School, the auxiliary will repeat the two one-act comedies so successfully given recently under the direction of Miss Nellie Scowcroft, L.T.C.L., and all who were unable to attend the original presentation, are invited to be present on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

To Hold Sale

Margaret Jenkins School, under the management, will have a stall in the market on Saturday, when they will have on sale the remainder of their articles of fancy and plain sewing and novelties, which were left over from the recent bazaar. The proceeds from the sale will be used for the order's charity work at Christmas.

St. Paul's Ladies' Aid

At the Ladies' Aid meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Wednesday afternoon, the officers were re-elected for the coming year. Words of appreciation were expressed and an enjoyable social time spent.

Court Maple Leaf

Court Maple Leaf, A.O.F., held a sale of work on Wednesday afternoon, with much success. The large box of candy was won by Mrs. Osborne. Following the sale, partner whist was played in the evening.

Craigflower C.C.F. Club

A preliminary meeting for the purpose of forming a C.C.F. Club in Craigflower district will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the school. All interested are asked to attend.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

THE EARLY TREATMENT OF THE COMMON COLD

A funny picture some months ago showed two drug store clerks, one of whom was saying to the other, "I wonder what it was that grandma used to recommend for a cold."

I believe that this gives some idea of the hundreds of treatments used in treating or preventing a cold because everybody seems to work out a remedy of his own.

Now the fact that a "cold is coming on" is usually known and the name "cold" is correct because for some reason the body has become chilled. And when the body becomes chilled the little organisms that cause the cold become stronger because the cold or chilling takes some of the fighting power out of the little white corpuscles of the blood whose work is to fight off the effects of cold or other harmful organisms. Cold thus weakens the defensive forces of the body.

Now there may be all kinds of helpful remedies known to you, yet your common sense tells you that if cold is weakening or has weakened your resistance to the organisms causing cold then heat should be the best method of warming up your white corpuscles and other body defences in order to fight the cold organisms.

Thus the idea of increasing the heat of the body so that a "good sweat" is produced is based on sound judgment.

Just how you bring on this heating of the body rests with yourself. The old fashioned hot foot-bath for twenty minutes is excellent because the feet are farthest away from the heart and likely to be the coldest. Heating the large blood vessels at the "end of the line" is therefore very helpful. A hot drink of any kind increases body heat. A hot lemonade is beneficial also because its alkalization of the blood and tissues.

Warm coverings—blankets or quilts—after the hot foot-bath and hot drink complete the "heat" treatment.

A dose of Epsom salts to rid the body of acids wastes and help alkalize the blood and tissues should be taken before the heat treatment begins.

Influences tending to promote penuriousness are likely to prove the discordant note in this day's affairs. Avoid disputes over money, and do not permit it to arouse any feeling of resentment.

Married and engaged couples, and men will find a liberal policy per those who are in love, will commit a grievous error if they try to assume the role of a dictator, or resort to dictatorial speech.

If a woman and December 6 is your birthday, any movement or action that is slow probably irks you. If you have any place to go, anything to do, a desire for speed is likely to obsess you. If you will learn to take things easier, your physical structure possibly will benefit by it. You should be very popular socially, as you are naturally gracious. Having an alert mind, you should be very shrewd in business matters. You can argue any point with so much adroitness, that your opponent seldom has a chance to offset your arguments. You ought to be very successful in selling real estate, insurance, advertising, or as a teacher, writer or musician you may find the right field of activity. If you will refrain from assuming complete control of family matters your matrimonial life should be extremely happy.

The child born on December 6 may, when it reaches its teens, show a decided genius for some particular line of work. To try and divert its mind to some other activity is likely to be a great mistake.

If a man and December 6 is your natal day, airplanes, high speed motor cars, fast horses or other rapid means of travel probably have fascination for you. Engineering, architecture, journalism, education work or selling may be among the mediums through which an abundant supply of money will come into your possession.

"I used to tell my son that if he was a good boy I'd take him to the circus."

"Is he too old for that?"

"Rather. Now he intimates that if I succeed in keeping in his good graces he may get me a ticket to see him play football."

PAUL LUKAS IS DOMINION STAR

"I Found Stella Parish" Current Attraction—Kay Francis in Feminine Lead

Paul Lukas, capable motion picture actor who plays one of the featured roles opposite Kay Francis in the new first National picture, "I Found Stella Parish," which comes to the Dominion Theatre today, is indebted to Max Reinhardt for his screen debut.

The celebrated director of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" saw Lukas in a Moller play in Budapest and invited him to appear as a guest artist in Berlin. This led to his first screen appearance. He played the role of Samson in "Samson and Delilah."

AMUSEMENTS
On the Stage
Royal—The Chocolate Soldier.
On the Screen
Capitol—"I Live My Life," starring Joan Crawford.
Columbia—Joe E. Brown in "Alibi Ike."
Dominion—"I Found Stella Parish," starring Kay Francis.
Playhouse—"Steamboat Round the Bend," starring Will Rogers.

Lukas has the role of a theatrical producer in "I Found Stella Parish," a powerful drama of a beautiful and talented stage beauty who is trying to conceal her secret past. Kay Francis in the cast include Ian Hunter, Sybil Jason, Barton MacLane, Jessie Ralph and Eddie Acuff. Mervyn LeRoy directed the picture from the screen play by Casey Robinson, based on the story by John Monk Saunders.

EARLY MATINEE ASSISTS DRIVE

Playhouse Theatre Donates Free Services for Saanich Campaign—Admission by Food

Promptly at 10 a.m. Saturday, the screen of the Playhouse Theatre will present three pictures in aid of the Saanich Welfare Association Christmas Hamper campaign. The performance has been billed as a "food matinee," admission being only by gifts of food suitable to be placed in a Christmas hamper.

The services of the theatre, the pictures, the work of the operators, ushers and L.A. office staff have been donated to the Saanich association to assist in its drive.

Canned goods are believed to be the most suitable, as fresh vegetables would not keep until Christmas time. "Steamboat Round the Bend," starring Will Rogers, and a Mickey Mouse and Popeye the Sailor cartoon will be the features on the screen. Doors will open shortly before 10 o'clock.

CAPITOL A visitor on the "I Live My Life," set might have written home a letter on how temperamental Joan Crawford is. While cameras whirled, she stormed through a drawing room, smashing lamps, vases, flower pots, clocks—anything in sight, including an Adrian-designed wedding gown which was torn to ribbons. All this for a dramatic scene in the new picture. To add the proper note of fury Director W. S. Van Dyke, murmured, just before the scene began, "I'll bet money you can't do it in one take!" "Five dollars," Joan flashed, and went into it. She won. The film is now at the Capitol Theatre.

COLUMBIA Joe E. Brown wrote the lyrics for a song sung by a baseball players' quartette in his new Warner Bros. picture, "Alibi Ike," which is now at the Columbia Theatre. The theme is typical of the bar-room ballads of the late twenties. Al Wrubel wrote the tune in which George Riley, Gene Morgan and Jack Norton, all members of the cast of "Alibi Ike," join in with Joe.

PLAYHOUSE Eugene Pallette, who plays a character role in Will Rogers' "Steamboat Round the Bend," now at the Playhouse Theatre, was a popular leading man in the days of silent films. An increase of girls unsuited him for romantic roles, however, and he turned to character portrayals. Pallette has no regrets; he makes more money now.

LITTLE ORPHEUM Two of the screen's "veteran" players are united as a youthful romantic team in "Anne of Green Gables," now at the Orpheum Theatre, from L. M. Montgomery's widely read novel. They are sixteen-year-old Anne Shirley, and Tom Brown, twenty-one-year-old leading man. However, despite their youth, Miss Shirley and Brown account for thirty-four years of acting experience between them.

PUSHING PLANS TO AID FLYERS

Emergency Rations to Be Rushed to Antarctica—Ellsworth Believed Safe

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (U.P.).—President F. Trubee Davison, of the American Museum of Natural History, announced last night plans to rush emergency rations to Antarctica for Lincoln Ellsworth and Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, according to The New York Times and the Newspaper Alliance of North America.

The pair have not been heard from since their airplane radio failed on the trans-Antarctica flight on November 23. Davison said a sister ship of Ellsworth's plane, Polar Star, will drop supplies at prearranged depots outlined by Ellsworth before he took off with his Winnie pilot.

AIDING IN PREPARATIONS Russell W. Thaw, pilot, and William H. Klenke, engineer, are aiding in preparations. The plane will leave for Magellan today or Saturday, Davison said.

"These preparations are not based upon any definite belief that Mr. Ellsworth and Mr. Hollick-Kenyon are in serious difficulties," Davison said. "It is the consensus among those who are familiar with Polar exploration that, for all we know, Mr. Ellsworth may have succeeded in crossing Antarctica and may now be sitting snug on the Ross Sea, or that, in the event of a forced landing, he may now be pushing his way toward the nearest coast line."

Jane Dixon Says:

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SELLING YOURSELF AND SELLING YOUR TALENT

True love, the love that warms the heart and shines like a bright candle in the soul, asks but one question: "Do you love me?"

Here is a letter from a gallant young man who does not seek ways and means whereby to compel the girl of his dreams to return his ardent affection.

He does not quarrel with the girl, with himself, nor with Fate, because he cannot have his own will.

"What can I do to help her?" he asks. "This is such a relief after all the 'How can I get her back?' 'How can I make him interested in me?' 'How can I win her in spite of herself?' letters."

LOVE ITSELF IS ENOUGH

This young man feels it is enough to have the love pledge of the girl he adores, and his only concern is how he can help her to happiness.

"Dear Miss Dixon: I'm twenty-two and go with a girl nineteen. We have known one another for six months."

"She is a professional dancer and teaches dancing. I work in an office as assistant to the manager."

"My salary permits me to take her out now and then, but I feel I should do more to entertain her and to make her happy."

"She is a sweet girl and very precious to me."

"I told her I love her and she says she loves me, but that being a professional entertainer she should not go with any man regularly."

"I don't think it is right for me to interrupt her career, and I can't afford to marry in these times."

"Should I continue as is, or should I bow out?"

"I love her so much I want to help, not hinder her.—Ala."

SHOULD CONTINUE THE SAME

Answer: Continue as you are.

If the young woman loves you—I hope she does, because you are worthy of love—she will appreciate your integrity.

There's this about it, too—if her love is sincere—it is not necessary for you to spend money on her entertainment. As a professional entertainer, she should be fed up with canned food and be happy to go to simple and wholesome and inexpensive places with the man of her heart's desire.

I'd trade a whirl in a luxury limousine with the other fellow any day, any hour, for a trolley ride with the man who means everything. There's not a table in a night club that could lure me away from a park bench under like conditions.

What I'm getting at is this: Love with its roots in the heart and in the soul does not demand rings on its fingers and bells on its toes.

It only asks the sunshine of a beloved presence. It longs to serve, not to be served.

OBLIGATIONS OF ENTERTAINERS

Now as to the girl—the professional entertainer.

Such work implies certain obligations which one must in justice admit. A professional entertainer should meet her clients graciously, and feel, as well as show, an interest in them.

However—the most successful woman in this career in New York at the moment is Eve Synington, a married woman, devoted to her husband.

The premiere danseuse of the Metropolitan Opera is the wife of one of opera's most famous directors.

There's a difference between selling oneself and selling one's talent. The woman who has real talent has no need for selling herself.

The woman who needs to sell herself has no talent.

MAN SERVES AS HUMAN TARGET

Picks Lead Pellet Off Floor When "Shot" by Officer in Court

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 5 (U.P.).—The father of one of the two college students held for the grand jury for assault with dangerous weapons dramatically served as a human target in a courtroom today.

A police arms expert, Sergeant Edward Seibolt, had testified that air pistols admitted by used by Cornelius Roosevelt, twenty-year-old grandson of former President Theodore Roosevelt, and Peter de Flores, twenty-one, his roommate, might kill a person within a fifty-foot range.

Striding to the witness stand, Louis de Flores, New York engineer and graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology where his son and Roosevelt are studying, told Seibolt, "Shoot."

He pulled open his coat. The officer fired at his chest.

Dr. Flores, without wincing, picked the lead pellet off the floor and handed it to Judge Robert Walcott.

Before that he had permitted Seibolt to shoot at his hand, protected by a handkerchief. He was only three paces from the policeman when the shots were fired.

On the stand, both defendants admitted firing the pistols, but insisted they had not intended to hit any person. They previously had pleaded not guilty to the charges. Today they were released in $200 bail each after Judge Walcott ruled: ACT NOT APPRECIATED

"This court doesn't appreciate a spirit of playfulness that might cost the eye of any person, or the eye of a policeman doing his duty."

Court attaches said Roosevelt and

STEER IS SOLD AT HIGH PRICE

Grand Champion at Chicago
Brings $3,150 to Young
Iowa Owner

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (AP). — "Pat's Blue Ribbon" grand champion steer, was auctioned off as $3,150 worth of steaks at the International Live Stock Show today.

Led from his royal stall, the black Aberdeen-Angus crowned on Tuesday as the champion of champions, commanded on the block a price of $3 a pound, equalling the value of the 1934 champion, but far under the 1929 record of $8.25.

But Cleo Yoder, of Wellman, Iowa, who raised him, was happy at his fat cheque and the $750 cash award. Pat's Blue Ribbon brought. He plans to use part of the $3,900 improving his father's 120-acre farm, part to pay the physicians who attended his mother before her death last summer, and the rest to enter Iowa State College. The steer's buyer was Armour & Co., acting for the Nathan Schweitzer Meat Products Co., New York.

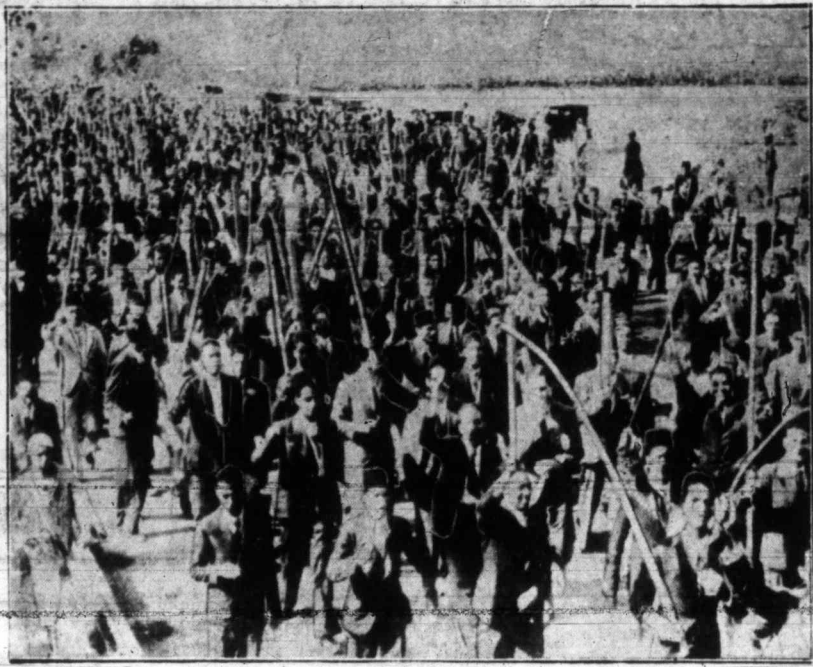

The second most important sale of auction day disposed of fifteen Hereford steers comprising the champion carload of cattle for $30 a hundredweight.

The champion carload of lambs sold for twenty-seven cents a pound, up ten cents from the 1934 prices.

Officer Facing Charge of Theft

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4 (AP). — Sergeant J. Harold Birks, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, appeared before Police Magistrate H. B. Wood today on a charge of theft and was remanded to December 12. It is alleged the sergeant stole more than $5,000 of police funds. Further details have not been revealed.

The Romance Racket

CHAPTER XXIII

There must have been more of the actress in Carol than she realized for surely she was playing the role of the working girl to its limit and loving it.

There was no time now for leisurely breakfasts prepared in the little kitchenette. No time for dallying in the shower and lazy hours until noon sitting in negligee with a book. No more free afternoons to drive out to the country with the little two-seater. Carol ate her breakfast in the drug store, snatching her last bite of toast in time to arrive at the office exactly on the dot of nine, and from then on until after six her days were filled.

Another girl with Carol's means of enjoying herself would have made much of the gorgeous Autumn weather and found it dull. Her job in Dr. Harding's office she did not find dull.

She found the white starched apron-frock she donned when she arrived more glamorous than the silver-scaled creation she had worn in the theatre. Where the perfume scent of the theatre had passed unnoticed, she wrinkled her nose delicately when she entered the office with its faint odor of antiseptics. She loved the shining whiteness about her. She loved the big, dim waiting room with its ancient magazines and worn leather chairs. She loved the doctor's office, so cleverly designed to give an atmosphere of comfort, of leisure, of quiet.

Each morning, Carol dusted the book-shelves stacked with the worn books, filled the bowls with flowers that arrived fresh every day, emptied the ash trays with their fillings of monogrammed and lipstick-smudged cigarette stubs. Dr. Harding would not allow the maid to touch his office except under Carol's supervision and Carol delighted to do the little things.

She found plenty to do. The telephone rang incessantly as did the door-bell. Not all the calls were professional. Carol began to learn how demanding is the social life of a prominent physician. His women patients sent him books, flowers, invitations without end. Carol wondered why Kathy was afraid that life with Owen might not be ray.

She fell on the job of straightening out the old file. She practiced every free moment on the typewriter until she became proficient enough to rewrite the case histories. And she learned to pat the patients on the hand as Miss Sanford had told her to.

"Dr. Harding's office," she said in that impersonal little voice she saved for answering the telephone.

"May I speak to Miss Kennedy, please?" It was Gary.

"This is she," Carol answered. "Well, Florence Nightingale, look what's happened! I go away for a fishing trip and come back to find my best girl actually turned working girl. Get your hat on. I'll be around at 4:30 for you. There's a party at the Westchester Country Club."

"Can't!" Carol answered briefly. "Can't!" he insisted lightly. "She lowered her voice, 'I'd like to talk to you, Gary, but I can't because I'm working. I'll be home about 6:30. Call me then, if you like, or the same time tomorrow night if you aren't going to be here tonight. I've got to hang up now.'"

She was terribly disappointed to find that he didn't say he would call her then. Well, what did she expect? He did say he was going to a party in Westchester but she hadn't seen him in such a long time and he hadn't been lonely.

Carol sighed. What did she have to do to have a good time? Was there something wrong with her that she hadn't seemed to enjoy the people she knew? That work wasn't enough for her? She didn't know but she was impatient for the answer. She put her little smile back on and hastened on quiet footsteps to answer the demanding door-bell.

The afternoon had seemed long to her, the first since she had come to work for Dr. Harding and she was glad when at last the patients were gone and Dr. Harding had closed the outer door behind him. Dusk was falling early now and it was quite dark when she let herself out at seven.

Gary was sitting at the wheel of his car, standing at the curb. Carol ran on eager feet to meet him. "You're a lamb and I'm so glad to see you," she told him with her whole face lighted. "Really?" Gary's broad smile made her heart warm. "How glad?" this to her as she climbed in beside him.

"Oh, I don't know." "Glad enough to kiss me?" Gary's grin robbed his question of deep meaning.

"I... why... not here." Carol was embarrassed. "This is as good a place as any I know of." Gary had drawn her to him. She thought she tried to draw away but she knew she didn't. She closed her eyes when he kissed her and then let her go. Neither of them said anything while he started the car and it glided into the avenue, but whenever Carol thought of that kiss, something inside her went swoop down to the pit of her stomach and it wasn't unpleasant.

She thought that she would never be able to find anything to say again. Gary knew that and quite elaborately casual he was:

"Want to hear any fish stories?" "Oh, yes," she said it much too eagerly.

Gary told her fish stories, camping stories, funny stories, long and short stories. He talked of everything and everything he could think of but he never said one word about that kiss or his proposal. Gary was hit too hard. He'd kissed girls before, and probably undoubtedly he would again—but Carol's kiss was something that neither of them had expected and Gary wanted to keep that moment as long as he could. He was a gentleman of keen perception and he knew how delicate the situation would be between them from that moment on.

Perhaps Carol did also, for when he had driven her home she didn't ask him to go in with her.

"You've got to run along, Gary. I'm a hard-working girl these days and it's awfully early in the morning when I get up."

"You're the whimsiest girl I've ever met, Carol. I know you have to have a job but why a girl would turn down a good part in a show for a crummy office job I can't figure out."

"It isn't crummy and I like it," she said calmly.

"Maybe you've got a crush on the doctor," he retorted.

Carol was glad for the darkness; she could feel the blood rising to her cheeks.

"That's silly," she said, "I haven't a crush on anybody."

"Think it over. Maybe you have one on me."

When he was gone she did think it over. She felt his kiss again. She felt the cold smoothness of his cheek against her own, the pressure of his lips on hers. She felt the strong muscles of his arm as he had pressed her to him.

At three o'clock, when she lay in the quiet wide-awake darkness, she she could still feel it and she admitted to herself honestly that she liked it.

The next morning she was sleepy and moved through her duties in a half dream. She couldn't put the night before out of her mind. She found herself expecting to hear Gary's voice when the telephone rang.

She didn't expect when she answered the bell that Dr. Craig would be standing there.

"Good morning," he said. "May I see Dr. Harding?"

She might have been an utter stranger. There was no one else there, yet he said not one other word. Carol was equally impersonal when she came to tell him the doctor would see him when, with thumping heart, she waited for him to come from the office, hoping there would be no patients, hoping he would ask her whether she liked her job, hoping she would have an opportunity to thank him.

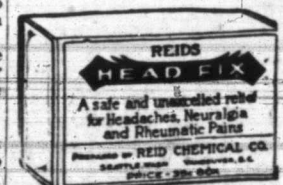

But when the door opened he came out talking to Dr. Harding and passed her without noticing her. She jabbed her pen into the inkwell. Was she angry or was she hurt?

SCHOOL TRUSTEES RECEIVE REPORTS

Children Found Responsible for Thefts From School—Night Classes Doing Well

LADYSMITH, Dec. 3.—The Board of School Trustees heard the police report upon a series of thefts from the Central School recently at the regular meeting last evening. The culprits were a couple of youngsters of eight and nine years of age. Some of the supplies stolen had been located, but part had been destroyed. The parents were warned to exercise stricter control over their children in future, or more drastic steps would be taken. The police were thanked for their report.

The trustees are assured that excellent work is being performed at the various night classes being held. There are twenty-three in the manual training group, seventeen for the home economics course and twenty-five attending the classes for commercial work.

The area served by the Diamond District School will be included in the local school district area, and the trustees of the Diamond area will arrange for transportation of the children. The cost will be the responsibility of the Health Department.

There are two iron stokers in operation at the schools here and the service is considered especially satisfactory at the Central School, and a little less so at the high school, where the coal consumption is a trifle high. It is believed that adjustments will rectify this, and plans are in hand to install a stoker at the primary school. An estimate of $400 for this work was considered high, and other prices will be procured before the plans are proceeded with.

A cursory review of the financial statement satisfied the board that the 1935 estimates will not be exceeded.

Council Helps Welfare Fund At Ladysmith

LADYSMITH, Dec. 5.—The City Council decided to grant the sum of $50 to the Welfare Fund, at the regular meeting last evening, to help the amount collected reach somewhere near the needs of the community. This donation brings the total within reach of the $200 mark, and further donations are expected to increase the total substantially. A grant was authorized of

Home Treatment with MUSTARD

Give your children mustard baths: nothing better for chills, colds and coughs! Mix one or two tablespoons of Colman's Mustard to a thin paste and add to a bath of warm water. In a warm room. Let their little bodies soak 10 or 15 minutes. Dry them carefully, then pop them into bed and be sure they keep well tucked in. That will sweat the poisons out!

Good for you, too, but you'll need 3 tablespoons of Colman's. Take a mustard foot bath if more convenient.

MALAHAT BRANCH OF LEGION MEETS

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Dec. 5.—The monthly meeting of the Malahat branch of the Canadian Legion, held in the S.L.A.A. Hall on Tuesday night, was marked by the usual excellent attendance. The president, J. B. Bell, was in the chair.

Applications for membership in the branch were accepted from F. Wilson, J. La Fortune, G. Mackay and H. Webber. Satisfactory reports were read on the annual veterans dinner and the poppy campaign. In the latter connection a hearty vote of thanks was given the W.A. poppy committee for their co-operation and work. The meeting proceeded to the election of officers, who will be installed at the annual meeting next month. Heading the branch next year will be A. J. Duggan, president, assisted by A. M. Perrins, first vice-president; A. O. Price, second vice-president; A. I. Dyson, secretary-treasurer; G. Orr, W. Fish and J. B. Bell, executive; J. B. Bell, W. Fish and H. P. Wolfe, district council.

After the meeting the members were entertained by the members of the W.A., who served refreshments.

DISCUSSES CARE OF ANIMAL LIFE

Anti-Vivisection Society Believes Modern Education Lacks Training of the Heart

A discussion on modern education was held recently at the home of Madame Vivenot, under the auspices of the local Anti-Vivisection Society. The opinions of various persons of eminence were read to show that it was unethical and that the training of the heart was being neglected.

Book learning, it was pointed out, was being mistaken for education, and too much emphasis was being laid on the importance of college and university training, and the idea that persons who have not gone through such training could not be properly educated. The modern system of training was competitive, and fatal to true education.

HEART CULTIVATION

Animal experimentation, it was argued, was associated with curiosity, greed, love of fame, blood lust, and was the antithesis of true education. The cultivation of the heart cannot thrive under such circumstances. As examples of its dangers, attention was drawn to the cases of the youthful murderers, Loeb and Leopold, in Chicago; the teaching of vivisection to the Chinese in a university in Shanghai; and the recent case of gross cruelty to a dog in San Francisco, by youthful experimenters. The case stirred humane workers throughout the length and breadth of California to protect their unwanted animals from abuse under the guise of scientific research.

CHURCH ATTITUDE

The attitude of the church and the lack of support from Christian leaders was much criticized, and it was asserted that if children were trained in ways and thoughts of kindness in their most impressionable years, civilization would advance materially. Appropriate to the discussion were the views of Dr. A. F. Hurst, which were quoted: "A general deterioration of intelligence is in progress all over the world, in spite of a parallel increase in education. For all information regarding the anti-vivisection movement, apply to the secretary, Miss Dora Kitto, Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society, 315 Sayward Bldg., Victoria, B.C."

THE MAN WITH HIS WIFE AND FAMILY

The man with his wife and family left the Scottish border village of his earliest days and settled in Sunderland. Going to the docks on a gloomy morning he remarked to a fellow lounge, "It's unco' like an oncome," which, being literally interpreted, means, "It's uncommonly like an oncoming (of rain)." The Sunderlander stared but said nothing. The borderer, returning home, remarked to his wife, "Daursay the folk hereaway are daft. I said tae a man doon at the dock. 'It's unco' like an oncome,' an' he juist glowered (stared) at me. 'It's you that's daft,' said the wife. 'Could ye no speak English an' say, 'It's aye an' like a bit shrooer?'"

MAY BRING BACK MANUAL TRAINING

Plebsite to Be Submitted in January to Duncan Electors at Association's Request

DUNCAN, Dec. 5.—Courses in manual training and domestic science may be reintroduced in Duncan schools after a lapse of twelve years. These subjects were dropped from the curriculum in 1924, following an adverse vote of the electors of Duncan and North Cowichan in a plebsite held at that time. The adverse vote in Duncan was very small, but in North Cowichan it was substantial.

At last night's meeting of the Consolidated School Board, a request was made by the Duncan P.T.A., that the matter be resubmitted to the electors at the January elections in the form of a plebsite. The board agreed to do this, following a presentation of the Parent-Teacher Association's views by R. A. Thorpe.

MRS. RUPERT STEPHENS PASSES TO HER REST

DUNCAN, Dec. 5.—The death occurred at Glenora last night of Mrs. Kathleen Faith Dolores Stephens, wife of Rupert E. C. Stephens.

Mrs. Stephens, who was only twenty-eight years of age, died after an illness of over two years, most of which time was spent at the Duncan Hospital. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock on Saturday at St. Peter's, Quamichan, Rev. A. Bischofberger conducting.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

GAME RAISES

When you raise your partner's opening one bid to game in his suit, you do not show a hand which is as strong in honor tricks as when you give a double raise, even though you are bidding for one or two more tricks. A raise of a major suit from one to four, or of a minor suit from one to four or five, is a shutout bid. Its purpose is to keep the bidding so high that the opponents cannot safely bid. The requirements for a raise to four are five trumps, a singleton, and about one honor trick, but no more than one and one-half honor tricks. To raise a minor suit to five, the hand should contain two singletons (that is, 5-5-1-1 distribution) or a void. Otherwise, raise your partner's suit only to four.

Suppose your partner has bid one spade. You should bid three spades with:

▲ J 10 7 5 ▲ K Q 6 4 ▲ Q 7 5 2
♥ 8 ♥ K ♥ K 8 4
▲ Q J 6 2 ▲ 7 6 4 3 2 ▲ A 7 2
▲ A Q 6 3 ▲ A J 6 ▲ K Q 5

But bid four spades with:

▲ 9 8 7 5 3 ▲ Q 8 6 5 3 ▲ K 8 6 4 3
♥ 10 ♥ 7 3 ♥ 10
▲ K Q ▲ 4 6 8
▲ 8 7 5 4 2 ▲ J 8 6 5 3 2 ▲ K Q 7 3 2

Delighted Reception Given Straus Opera "Chocolate Soldier"

Colorful Work Given Premiere at Royal Victoria Theatre Last Night Before Enthusiastic Audience—Sparkling Performance Enjoyed

THE author of the libretto of the colorful and tuneful "Chocolate Soldier" may be justified in making apologies to George Bernard Shaw for "an unauthorized parody on one of his comedies," but certainly no apology is needed for the sparkling presentation of the comic opera given by the Victoria Civic Opera at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night. The spontaneously enthusiastic reception given this first-night performance augurs well for the repetitions tonight and tomorrow night.

In essentials the plot follows that devised by Mr. Shaw, using his brilliantly clever situations and much of the witty and epigrammatic dialogue. Oscar Straus' music is light, bright, and lively, with plenty of catchy melodies that seem quite naturally to seize and carry on the dialogue in a mood of gay banter and effervescent repartee.

These two things furnish a good beginning. The local opera company, by doing a splendid "best" with them by providing, in Basil Horsfall, a highly professional musical director, and a most gifted and hard-working staff of associates responsible for staging, scenery, costumes, lighting and other details.

KALEIDOSCOPIC DRESS
The costumes alone were well worth going to see. Rarely does a travelling company show anything to equal them for richness of coloring and materials and authenticity of design, the Bulgarian locale of the opera offering a marvelous opportunity for kaleidoscopic extravagance of hues. Equally striking is the garden scene used in the second and third acts, with flowers clambering over walls and trellis, and towering mountains closing in the vista of valley beyond.

The casting of the parts is again splendidly done. The roles are so suited to the actors that they seem almost inevitable. The acting was spirited, with a keen sense of comedy and burlesque, and the voices were, in each instance, quite adequate for the lively and yet often very difficult tunes. The chorus groups surpassed themselves, singing with great verve and resonant tone, and showing much more finesse in moving about the stage. Beginning with the finale of Act I, they filled an important part, both visually and musically, and drew applause on their own behalf on more than one occasion.

One of the most animated scenes in the whole opera was at the end of Act II, when a ballet of Bulgarian peasants, red-booted, and with gay-colored petticoats and braided bodies, appeared in the garden and gave a barbarically beautiful dance, the peak performance in which was that of Jan Gibson, a most agile youth. This detail was greeted with long applause.

THE PRINCIPALS

Cast in the part of the pretty Nadina, daughter of Colonel Popoff, Doreen Wilson was extremely pretty, sang enchantingly, and acted with grace and charm. Kathleen Barraclough, in the comedy role of the Colonel's wife, brought a voice of unusual power and beauty. Mascha, her cousin, was delightfully played and sung by Margery Benson, who always moves about the stage as if it were her natural background.

As Bumerli, the much-buffeted-about Swiss gentleman, who somehow has become a lieutenant in the Serbian army, Fraser Lister gives another example of his amazing versatility as singer, comedian and character actor. Clifford Prescott does a capital bit of burlesque as Massakroff, the goose-stepping captain; James Mathieson provides a clean-cut interpretation of the bluff, ready-laughing, but much henpecked Kasimir Popoff, and Dudley Wickett is the humorless, self-important and immaculately military Alexus Spiridoff, major in the Bulgarian army. Jack Kent-Fawkes and Peggy McKie take minor roles.

Of the many popular melodies, the "My Hero" music, heard early in Act I, often recurred. The sixteen-piece orchestra supplies fine support, and the whole production is an accomplished amateur opera company.

Blew Open Vault But Got Nothing

UXBRIDGE, Ont., Dec. 5 (P.)—Bank officials tonight said so far as could be ascertained no money was taken by the robbers who attempted to loot the Canadian Bank of Commerce vault here.

The bank was entered last night and the outer door of the vault blown open. It was at first reported $5,000 had been taken. The inner safe, however, stood firm and no money was missing.

The janitor discovered the robbery when he came to work today.

Obituary

MEYER—The funeral of Mrs. Henrietta Marcella Meyer, who died in Berkeley on December 1, took place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday. Rev. Canon Chadwick conducting the service in the presence of many of the deceased's sympathizing friends. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

COFFEY—Funeral services for the late George Coffey were held yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large circle of friends. Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell conducted an impressive service, assisted by Rev. Daniel Walker, during which two hymns, "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Abide With Me," were sung. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery, and the following acted as pallbearers: James Adam, Edward Smith, C. Lewis and J. Stewart.

GOVERNMENT TO CALL FOR BIDS

Tenders for $175,000 Tubercular Wing Will Be Invited in Few Days

Tenders for construction of the new provincial tubercular wing at the Vancouver General Hospital will be called by the Government early next week, Hon. F. M. MacPherson said yesterday. Provincial architects have completed plans and specifications for the building.

Bids will be invited on the construction of the building, as a completely modern hospital wing, and also for electrical, heating and other fixtures in connection with the operation of the plant.

Separate tenders will be called for the outfitting and furnishing of the structure later, the minister said.

Unofficial estimates for the cost of the project as a provincial undertaking were placed recently at $175,000, only part of which, however, was for the actual building.

HAMPER DRIVE OPENS TONIGHT

Saanich Welfare Drive Is to Start With Broadcast This Evening

Reeve William Crouch will, this evening, formally open the Christmas Hamper campaign of the Saanich Welfare Association when the first of four broadcasts is presented at 8 o'clock over C.F.T.

The initial programme will be given by the Hudson's Bay Company's Beaver Club Choir, which won honors in the Victoria and Vancouver musical festivals. Choral selections and solos will be presented by the choir under the direction of C. C. Warren.

Headquarters for the Saanich Association's campaign are located in the Scott Building, Douglas Street and early next week the office and organization personnel will be completed and active work of packing hampers, to be sent out, will be started.

This year the association has set its goal at 500 hampers. Last year some 400 hampers were distributed but that amount will be insufficient to meet the demand this Christmas, officials state.

Reeve Crouch announced last night another broadcast would be staged tomorrow night, with David Spencer Co., Ltd., as sponsors. Two others will be presented Saturday, December 21, and Monday, December 23, under the sponsorship of the British-America Paint Co. and the reeve and council, respectively.

UNEASINESS INTENSIFIED

were said to have expressed the Japanese army's opinions to General Ho.

General Sung Cheh Yuan, the Chinese acting mayor of Peiping and commander of the Peiping-Tientsin Garrison, suddenly left Peiping, announcing he would no longer take responsibility for maintenance of peace and quiet here.

A airplane from the newly-created East Hopeh autonomous state, accompanied by fourteen Japanese army planes, circled over General Ho Ying Ching's headquarters after dropping pamphlets advocating a Peiping declaration of independence from the Central Government.

The headquarters was also the scene of a demonstration by several hundred persons who delivered petitions urging North China autonomy. General Sung was discovered late to have gone to a nearby hot springs resort. He said he had not decided when he would return to Peiping.

Saanich Council Opposes Daylight Saving Plan Here

THE Saanich Council, last night, by a six-to-two vote, opposed introduction of daylight saving in Victoria. Councilors E. C. Warren, Ward Two, and G. Stanley Eden, Ward Seven, voted for daylight saving.

province in the post-Confederation era.

"However, in order to get a completely adequate and accurate picture of the economic position of the province, it would be necessary to have more statistical information than is now made available either by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics or the Departments of the Provincial Government."

ON UP-GRADE

The report confirms what has previously been said, that 1932 was the nadir of the depression in this province in regard to production. In 1932, for instance, basic industries in British Columbia yielded $105,192,864 in the combined value of primary products. This total became $179,771,012 when $74,577,448 was added in manufacturing values that year.

In 1933 primary production had returned to $117,392,832, and last year to $141,528,438. Gross production in 1933, meanwhile, was $192,591,239, and for 1934 slightly in excess of $200,000,000, subject to final check on the addition to be made for manufactures.

This year is expected to see a further improvement in each of the four industries, based on eleven months' recorded observation.

As the report is one mainly of industrial operations in the basic industries of the province, it is a record of private and not governmental endeavor.

A limited number of copies of the report will be made available through the Province, though the manner of distribution has not yet been finally settled. Subject only to the limitation that trade statistics are a record of trade that has passed, the report is a valuable addition to industrial data of the province.

VANCOUVER STRIKERS TO END WALKOUT

When Vancouver longshoremen refused to handle alleged "hot" cargo from Powell River, where a waterfront dispute was in progress.

Strike activities reached the peak some two weeks after the walkout when strikers and their sympathizers clashed with police while attempting to march on to Ballantyne Pier and dissuade members of the C.W.W.A. from continuing operations.

A number of police and parades were injured and numerous rioters arrested and later convicted, sentences ranging from one to nine months.

MANY LEAVE RANKS
Since the Ballantyne Pier incident strikers continued to picket the waterfront, with occasional clashes with dock workers of the new union and several isolated cases of violence on workers' homes reported. Of the 900 men who went on strike, some 300 have returned to work as members of the C.W.W.A.

Strike activity gradually died down, and last month the men, after refusing a five-point proposition offered by the federation as a means of ending the controversy, presented a similar programme of their own, also turned down by the employers.

A Federal inquiry into the situation was held in September under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, who reported that the men had acted under irresponsible leadership.

AWAIT OFFICIAL WORD
Secretary J. P. Quinn, of the local longshoremen who left their jobs in support of the Vancouver waterfront strikers, when asked last night what action his organization would take now in view of developments at Vancouver, stated there was nothing he could say until official notification had been received from the Mainland port, which he expected some time today.

FAIRBANKS HAS QUITE
COLD DECEMBER DAY

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 5 (P.)—The temperature sank to 54 degrees below zero today, the coldest December day recorded by the Weather Bureau in twenty-three years. Fort Yukon reported 63 degrees below zero, with most other Yukon valley points showing 50 degrees below zero.

The average daily temperature here since December 1 has been 40 degrees below zero. One year ago today the minimum was 58 degrees above zero.

FEAR FOR SAILORS' LIVES
ROME, Dec. 5 (CP-Havas).—A number of sailors are feared to have perished in a storm which caused heavy property damage along the Tuscan coast today.

EXPLOSION LEADS TO GIRL'S DEATH

DAUGHTER OF M.P.P. in Saskatchewan Dies of Burns Received in Blast

MAIDSTONE, Sask., Dec. 5 (P.)—Burns suffered in a kerosene explosion today caused the death of Miss Mabel Macauley, daughter of A. J. Macauley, of Waseca, Sask., M.P.P. for Cut Knife.

The girl and her sister, Annie, both attending high school, occupied a small house where the explosion occurred. Cause of the blast was not known. Annie, who was outside getting water when she heard the blast, dragged her sister unconscious from the burning house.

PREACHER IS MUZZLED
BERLIN, Dec. 5 (CP-Havas).—Rev. Martin Niemöller, one-time U-boat commander and now a militant anti-Nazi clergyman, was formally told by Nazi authorities today he must cease preaching.

CASH PRICE $146.00

NORTHERN ELECTRIC boasts

90% LESS WIRING than is used in other makes!

This extreme simplification in the Northern Electric All-Wave circuit is brought about by the centralization of all the sensitive elements of the set into one isolated and heavily-armored unit, called the "Centromatic Unit." The effect is amazing—it completely eliminates "set noise," leaving an unobstructed track for every radio signal, strong or weak, on any wave length . . . from any part of the world; programmes are reproduced with a subtlety and truthfulness hitherto impossible; accurate tuning in is made child's play, even on short-wave bands. . . . "Controlled Selectivity," another great improvement found in the Northern Electric Radios, makes it possible to SHARPEN or BROADEN your tuning to suit the station that is coming in. All the brilliance of metal tubes is brought out in Centromatic Radio performance.

Northern Electric Model 801, above, embodies all the advanced features of Northern Electric engineering. Domestic and world reception with a brilliance and easy perfection you never dreamed possible. PLUS amateur conversations, police calls and thrilling aircraft messages. Revised price, made possible by the new Canada-U.S. treaty. Cash $157.50

Your old radio as down payment now, leaves nothing to pay till January 15, 1936. Balance on easy monthly terms.

Charter Market in Month of November Kept Fairly Firm

Practically All Business Fixed Was for British Columbia Loading—Owners of Tramp Ships Afraid of Labor Conditions

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The Pacific Coast freight and charter market for the month of November continued generally firm, but without any further increase in the gains made during the month previous. Berth lines still continued to run with capacity cargoes and strong inquiry is still heard for tramp vessels to load under charter.

Owners, on the other hand, show but little interest, probably due to two particular reasons: 1. The ability of owners to secure elsewhere equally good or better employment than is offered on the United States Pacific Coast; 2. Unsettled labor conditions on the United States Pacific Coast are still considered a threat by foreign owners of tramp tonnage.

For years it has been the practice of foreign owners to send vessels in ballast to the United States Pacific Coast, often on speculation, always feeling assured of some business turning up and a resultant quick turn-around. Disastrous experiences met with by many owners during the past year or so in long and costly tie-ups through labor difficulties seem, at least for the present, to have put an end to this practice. Freight rates, of necessity, have to improve materially, or labor conditions become settled before any great flow of tramp tonnage to the United States Pacific Coast can be expected.

A resume of the various trades in detail follows, from which it will be of particular interest to observe that practically all business has been fixed for British Columbia loading in so far as wheat and lumber are concerned, due undoubtedly to lower prices of these commodities in British Columbia.

GRAIN

Japan-China—Some good-sized parcels of feed wheat were booked from Vancouver to Japan, at rates in the neighborhood of $2.90 to $3.00 per ton.

United Kingdom—Continued—Rates in this direction appear to have softened slightly during the month. Several vessels, however, secured fixtures at rates ranging from 20s 6d to 22s per ton, free in and out, for the carriage of combination cargoes of wheat and lumber. Some distress liner wheat space was reported fixed at rates ranging from 18s 6d to 20s.

Inter-Coastal—There have been several inquiries in the market for tonnage to load full cargoes of wheat inter-coastal, on time-charter basis. A scarcity of American ships necessary for this business has resulted in owners asking higher rates than charterers are prepared to pay. Negotiations are still going on.

LUMBER

Japan—The volume of business in this direction has slackened somewhat. Rates during the early part of the month increased to $7.00 on squares and $9.00 on logs, but eased off as the month came to a close to about $6.50 on squares and $8.50 on logs.

China—Berth rates on lumber are now in the neighborhood of $7.00 to $7.25 for Shanghai, with about 500 more for North China ports. Considerable inquiry has been in the market for tonnage to load full cargoes, and several vessels have been fixed on lump-sum basis, free in and out. Tonnage available for this business has been scarce.

Australia—Five vessels have been fixed on f.o.b. basis, all for British Columbia loading.

Inter-Coastal—Regular liners have been unable to accommodate all offerings at the pegged rate of $12.50. Inquiry has been heard for vessels to load full cargoes, but so far no fixtures have resulted.

TIME CHARTER

Inquiry for American ships continued strong, with several fixtures reported at remunerative rates of hire.

TANKERS

The list of fixtures to various destinations speak for themselves.

WESTBOUND TOMORROW

Bound for the Philippines via Japan and China ports, the American Mail Line Ss. President Grant will be here for two hours tomorrow afternoon. The liner is due at Rithet Piers at 6 o'clock, and is scheduled to sail for Yokohama, her first port of call, at 6 o'clock. The Grant will pick up mails and passengers here.

"Do you want a boy?" he asked of the magnate of the office. "Nobody wants a boy," replied the magnate, eyeing him sharply. "Do you need a boy?" asked the applicant, nowise abashed. "Nobody needs a boy," came the discouraging reply. "Well, mister," he inquired, "do you have to have a boy?" "The magnate collapsed. "I'm sorry to say we do," he said, "and I guess you're about what we want."

MS. AORANGI SAILS SOUTH

Liner Expected to Make Up Some Lost Time Before Leaving Honolulu

On her way to Australia by way of Hawaii, Fiji and New Zealand, the Canadian-Australasian motorship Aorangi, Captain J. F. Spring-Brown, commander, came in to Rithet Piers at 3:30 o'clock last evening, embarked a number of passengers, took on mails and some light cargo and sailed for Honolulu at 6 o'clock.

Captain Spring-Brown, although he was twenty-four hours late leaving Vancouver, due to heavy fog, stated he would probably make up some of the lost time before leaving Honolulu, figuring on arriving there at a certain hour. He doesn't think he would gain much more time between the Hawaiian port and Auckland, but would sail from the latter port on schedule for Sydney, the end of the run for the ship, as well as the end of the commodore-captain's career on the bridge of the Aorangi. The gallant skipper is retiring when the ship reaches the Australian port.

During the brief period the Aorangi was lying alongside the local dock last evening, many of Captain Spring-Brown's friends here visited his quarters and wished him many happy days' shore-side.

SOME TRAVELERS

Going out on the liner were close to 250 travelers in all classes. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Thompson, the former being an officer on the Ss. Princess Mary, going to New Zealand on vacation; Captain and Mrs. Tarrant, for New Zealand; Rev. A. R. J. Symes, bound for Sydney; Mrs. C. Jamieson, Master J. Jamieson and Miss M. Williams en route to Auckland; Major P. J. Scantlebury, for Auckland, and Colonel and Mrs. Philip A. Moore, of Banff, on holiday to Hawaii.

Others aboard the Aorangi were Mrs. Lill S. Krug, a traveling journalist, who will spend some time in Hawaii and the balance of the Winter in Tahiti; Paul Suzor, formerly French consul-general at Vancouver, accompanied by Madame Suzor and family, going to Wellington, where Mr. Suzor has been appointed French consular agent, and Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Clayton, of Duncan, who will spend the Winter in New Zealand.

TOURIST CLASS TAKEN CARE OF

Cunard-White Star Line Providing Fine Accommodation on Queen Mary

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—Never before in the history of North Atlantic travel will such lavish provision have been made for tourist class passengers as in the new Cunard-White Star liner Queen Mary. Tourist facilities in the great liner will include stateroom accommodation extending over five decks. Eighty per cent of the rooms will have adjoining private toilets; every stateroom will be fitted with mahogany bedsteads and supplied with hot and cold water. It will also have its own system of ventilation under the passenger's individual control.

Tourist public rooms will include an air-conditioned dining saloon, nearly eighty feet long and extending the full width of the ship; a smoking room, cocktail bar, a library for 1,500 books, children's playroom, containing a model railway; two lounges, one to be used on occasions as a talking picture cinema and ballroom, and a writing room.

The large swimming pool is being fitted out in blue and silver and adjoins an exceptionally complete gymnasium.

Passengers in third class will also find luxury in their accommodation. Every stateroom will have fitted dressing tables, overhead bedlights, hot and cold water and ventilation controlled by the passenger. Public rooms will be tremendously in advance of anything which has previously been provided for third class passengers. They include two lounges, both situated underneath the bridge and providing magnificent views looking forward out to sea; a smoking room and children's playroom.

Bargain Fares Effective on Railway for Week-End

WITH the promise of mild weather continuing over the coming week-end, the great interest shown during the past few weeks by the public generally in the bargain fares offered by the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company to and from all points on the Island railway system, it should be an easy matter to fill the coaches leaving from the local depot today and tomorrow for Up-Island communities and bring correspondingly heavy traffic into Victoria from Port Alberni, Courtenay and stations in between.

These bargain fares are good going today and tomorrow morning, and will be in effect until Tuesday, December 10.

Scene of Navy Meeting

Into these portals, on December 9, will pass the delegates of five great naval powers—Great Britain, France, Japan, Italy and the United States—to confer on an international naval programme that will control the navies of all of them. A suite of offices has been hired for the conference in Clarence House, at 4 Matthew Parker Street, that the conferring delegates and naval experts might do their important work away from the hustle and bustle and influence of official Whitehall.

WOOL MADE FROM MILK

Italians Will Make Synthetic Wool From Casein, a Milk Product

The manufacture of "synthetic wool" from casein, a by-product of the dairy industry, has now passed the experimental stage in Italy and is being produced on an industrial scale, according to information recently received.

In the manufacture of this new product, casein, which is extracted from skim milk by the usual method, is subjected to a bath of chemicals in which it is soluble, and the resulting viscous solution is forced through small holes which form the "woolen" threads, as in the production of rayon or synthetic silk. The "information" states, except for the chemical treatment for which special apparatus is required, the "wool" is produced with the same equipment used for the production of rayon.

It is claimed by the inventor that owing to the smaller percentage of sulphur which tends to reduce the warmth of natural wool, the synthetic product possesses even greater heat-conserving qualities than natural wool, and for that same reason the new fibre takes dye more evenly.

As with rayon this new casein product can be produced in the fineness and length of staple required, assuring the highest degree of perfection in the finished cloth, the manufacturer claims.

DAILY OUTPUT

It is stated by the end of this year the daily output is expected to exceed 2,000 pounds and that by June, 1936, it will reach 50,000 pounds each day.

It is said that one pound of coagulated skimmed milk will produce one pound "synthetic wool," and that the cost of production will be governed largely by the cost of casein.

Casein already has wide use in industry, particularly in the processing of paper, it is pointed out. Casein can be produced in any locality where milk is available in sufficient quantities.

Local Engineering Staffs Will Control Maintenance Only

Central Staff at Ottawa Will Handle All Work in Connection With New Port Projects, Minister Tells Institute

OTTAWA, Dec. 5.—Engineering work in connection with new projects at Canada's ports will be handled in future by a central staff at Ottawa—and only maintenance work will be under the control of local engineers, Hon. C. D. Howe, Federal Minister of Railways and Canals and Marine told members of the Engineering Institute of Canada at a dinner here tonight.

"It seems a strange anomaly," he said, "that the Dominion Government, being possessed of a splendid engineering staff, having wide experience in port engineering, should have turned over to small local staffs some of the most important engineering problems with which the Government has been called upon to deal."

"It is the intention of my department to confine the work of local engineering staffs entirely to maintenance problems and to handle engineering work for new projects by a central staff at Ottawa. Thus the best engineering skill and experience of the public service can be brought to bear on each problem."

IS UNDER WAY

"The work of reorganizing harbor administration at these ports (Halifax, Saint John, Chicoutimi, Quebec, Three Rivers, Montreal and Vancouver), is now under way. It is the intention to co-ordinate the work of the various boards and, if possible, to put them all on a self-sustaining basis."

"A competent expert on port management will be given the task of developing business for the several ports and of co-ordinating their activities in a way that will avoid competition one with the other. I have no doubt that the new form of administration will do much to eliminate waste and change the position of these parts to a source of revenue rather than a drain on the treasury."

Last Chances for Getting Holiday Mails to Hawaii

THE last mail for Honolulu to reach that point in good time for Christmas will be by the Ss. President Wilson, leaving San Francisco, December 13, Postmaster G. H. Gardiner stated yesterday. Parcel mails will close at Victoria at 4 p.m., December 10, and letter mails 11:15 p.m. the same day. The Ss. Laurine will leave San Pedro on December 19, and will reach Honolulu December 24. Letter mails will close at Victoria at 4 p.m., December 16.

The gathering, Mr. Howe said, was intended to mark the first time in the history of the Dominion Government when a professional engineer had been made minister of an engineering department. He regarded this as an important matter for the profession. At times he had had to assist in preparing reports for ministers who were not engineers, and had had to accept decisions he felt were based on lack of understanding.

LOST BUSINESS

Centralizing of port control under a board in Ottawa in place of the local harbor commission was a step in the direction of eliminating duplication, declared Mr. Howe. Under the former practice the local commissions tended to compete with one another in obtaining money for spectacular development and instead of concentrating on getting new business for Canada, often sought to take business away from another Canadian port, he stated.

Federation to the outstanding woman athlete of the year.

CAGE SQUADS AFTER CARDS

Kelowna and Penticton Senior "B" Teams to Apply For Amateur Cards

KELOWNA, B.C., Dec. 5 (P).—The British Columbia Interior Basketball Association has decided to forward applications for amateur cards for Kelowna and Penticton senior "B" basketball teams to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada despite the fact the teams have been outlawed by the union.

The teams were suspended because of having played against the Hat-Freeman team of Spokane, Wash., which made an exhibition tour of the interior.

The association has also decided to ask for a "blanket" permit to allow United States teams to play in the Okanagan district, instead of obtaining new permits for each game, as this would entail considerable time and expense.

Reports state teams in this district find it more difficult of recent years to finance visits of Coast teams and have turned to Washington clubs for competition.

HOOP CHAMPS TO PERFORM

Dominoes to Battle West Saanich and Island Tug Quintettes Tonight

VICTORIA DOMINOES, formerly Blue Ribbons, Dominion hoop champions, will make their second appearance against local opposition this evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium, when they stack up against West Saanich Mercantile and Island Tug "Red Stacks," leaders in the men's senior "B" and intermediate "A" boys' divisions, respectively, of the Victoria and District Basketball League.

Headlining the regular Friday evening card, the exhibition between the Dominoes and the two leading quintettes in the other section of the city loop, will be played in four fifteen-minute quarters.

STUDENTS TO PLAY
Chinese Students, flashy interme-

diante "A" boys' quintette, will show in the curtain raiser against the Kingham-Gillespie squad in what should be an interesting battle. Both clubs are carrying some smart youngsters, and with the race for the honors exceptionally close, the clubs will be at full strength in hopes of gaining important points in the title chase. The game will get under way at 7:30 o'clock.

Panorium, leading women's hoop squad, and the Unitas, second berth occupants, will clash in the second attraction. Last week at Duncan the Unitas won the Lower Island final of the Wenger Cup series, and tonight they will be out to humble the leaders.

QUESTION TO BE DECIDED

Delegates to Deal With Participation of United States in Olympics

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (P).—With both sides looking for victory, a close fight on the question of participation by the United States in the Olympic Games at Berlin next year, appeared imminent tonight as upwards of 200 delegates arrived for the forty-seventh annual convention of the Amateur Athletic Union starting tomorrow.

Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, flew in from Chicago and said "the battle was won two years ago," but declared himself apprehensive that an open fight on the question on the convention floor Saturday "might very easily wreck the structure of the A.A.U." If the issue is discussed at the general assembly Brundage expressed confidence that A.A.U.

would vote in favor of participation. Jeremiah T. Mahoney, president of the A.A.U., and opposition leader, said, "There is a preponderance of sentiment in favor of a boycott of the Olympic Games."

The question will be threshed out tomorrow at a joint meeting between members of the A.A.U., executive and foreign relations committees.

JOEY IS LEADING Canadian Winner

TORONTO, Dec. 5 (P).—Joey, star performer from the stable of O. L. Jacques, of Edmonton, was the leading money-winner during the Canadian racing season. The four-year-old Western speedball with nine victories earned $9,480 to hold top honors.

Second place went to Senator Donat Raymond's Crofter with $6,945. Joey caused a sensation in the West this year when he ran up eight consecutive victories. At the end of the season he was the same East with a large shipment of thoroughbreds. He made two starts and was a victor in his final effort. Over a slow track he defeated an open field of older horses which included Crofter.

That pocketbook of yours is going to be of increasing importance as Christmas approaches . . . and we thought we'd take rather a lot of space in this newspaper to remind you how you can treat the pocketbook kindly and yet make Christmas worthwhile for the people you like. You can buy, we want to remind you, really fine things to wear at decidedly moderate prices at Wilson's. We go in for QUALITY in a really big way and we've managed . . . with a quite unusually large store and a great big stock and a steady turnover . . . to mark our prices moderately ALWAYS. This is of importance to your pocketbook, don't you think? Drop in and see how decidedly easy it is to choose definitely worthwhile things for man, lady or boy.

ST. SAVIOURS BRINGING STRONG XI FOR MATCH

Saints Will Field Formidable Squad Against Victoria

Secretary George Floyd of Mainland Side Announces Line-Up for Inter-City League Fixture With Locals Tomorrow Afternoon—United Are Hopeful of Gaining Points

Determined to gain a couple of points to boost their standing in the Inter-City Football League title chase, St. Saviours will trot out their strongest line-up of the season tomorrow at the Royal Athletic Park when they stack up against the Victoria United in a regular league fixture. The kick-off is set for 2:30 o'clock, with J. C. Dows tooting the whistle.

George Floyd, general secretary of the St. Saviours club, has sent word to say that the Saints will have all of their regulars on hand, and the boys are quite confident they can take the measure of the local eleven.

Heading the invading contingent will be Murray West, clever and popular member of the St. Saviours eleven who has gained many friends here by his good football. West, in his previous appearances, has usually been on the halfback line, but tomorrow he will play inside left.

Guarding the net for the Mainlanders will be Tommy Alsbury, veteran goalie. In front of Alsbury, as fullbacks, will be Tommy Hargreaves and Biff Ingram. Two clever defence men. The halfback line will include Horace Heath, Eric Camp and Ossie Ross.

SAINTS' FRONT LINE
With Bob McMurdo, goal-getting centre forward in the pivot position, the visitors' front rank will present considerable scoring punch. Bruce Gardiner will flank McMurdo on the right and Murray West will be on the opposite wing. Johnny Moffatt, speedy winger, will patrol the right lane, and "Chuck" Greer will complete the line-up on the left wing.

George Bradbury, Hugh Hunter and Archie Purse, former member of the Victoria West eleven, will be in uniform and ready to jump into the fray at a moment's notice.

VICTORIA LINE-UP
Victoria United will field a well-balanced eleven which will see the return to the game as goalie of Louis De Costa, rated as one of the most brilliant net-minders in the Province. Sammy Esler and Freddy Gibbons will hold down the full-back positions. The intermediate line will see Joe Crowe, husky Saanich Thistles player, returning to the "rep" side as centre half. Ronnie Williams and Bill Boyd, veteran "rep" players, will complete the halfback line.

With Fred Price in the forward position, "Scotty" Stewart and Noel Morgan, as inside forwards, and George Payne and Gordon Bell on opposite wings, Victoria's front rank has speed, ball control and plenty of good football.

Joe Watt, Bob Pearce and John Watt have been named as substitutes, and will, in all probability, see action during the match.

AERIAL DUEL EXPECTED TO DECIDE TITLE

Forward Passes Promise to Play Big Part in Tigers' 'Pegs Final

HAMILTON, Ont., Dec. 5 (C.P.).—Promise of a brilliant duel in the air, with Johnny Ferraro firing forward passes against the overhead onslaught of Bob Fritz, Russ Rehholz and Greg Kabat, brought a rush to the ticket window today for the Hamilton-Winnipeg Canadian football final here Saturday.

Warmer weather had something to do with the improved advance sale, but Tiger supporters warmed up considerably to the annual East-West gridiron struggle that may be decided in the air, rather than on the ground. The town was ready to greet the Western champions, who arrive here tomorrow from Detroit.

Hamilton critics believe Eastern prestige will rest largely on the passing of Ferraro and the punting of Huck Welch. They hold the view that a bigger Winnipeg wingline, fast and experienced, is unlikely to go down before the Tiger charges. But they believe Ferraro and Welch will win through the air.

WINNIPEG READY

DETROIT, Dec. 5 (C.P.).—Brought to fighting pitch, Winnipeg's football squad was pronounced ready tonight to take on Hamilton Tigers in the Canadian football final. "Anytime, the sooner the better," a week of hard training was over.

"The boys are about ready to bite one another's heads off, and for two plus they'd masticate me, too," declared Manager Joe Ryan. "It's a good sign. The players are in fine condition. They've got loads of confidence."

The team will go to Hamilton tomorrow.

Soccer Chatter

By A.F.A.N.

The Wests thoroughly deserved their victory on Saturday in the Milton Cup final, and by the same token, the City deserved to lose. After having the game safely won by virtue of their superior forward play and a clear lead of two goals, the City team once again demonstrated that they lack that something which is necessary to a team if it wishes to hold an established mastery.

The Wests, on the other hand, refusing to accept defeat, under considerable handicap, fought stubbornly. They played a masterly game in the second half, and, before the end of that period they had the City defence beaten, and even if they had had to go into overtime, it was evident to all of us that they were bound to win the game in the end.

This was all the more praiseworthy for the facts that they were relying on several youngsters, that they had had to reorganize their half-back line, and that the City defence was stubbornly keeping them out of reach for the greater part of the game. Much credit is due to Lorandini, who was called upon to hold one of the smartest forward lines in the league.

The absence of Barnes seemed to have inspired this player, who went all out for the full ninety minutes of the game, doing more than his share on the defence in the first half, and backing up the attack splendidly after half-time. Storey, too, showed that his departure will be a great loss to the team. But evidently the Wests are not going to be discouraged by losses in their ranks.

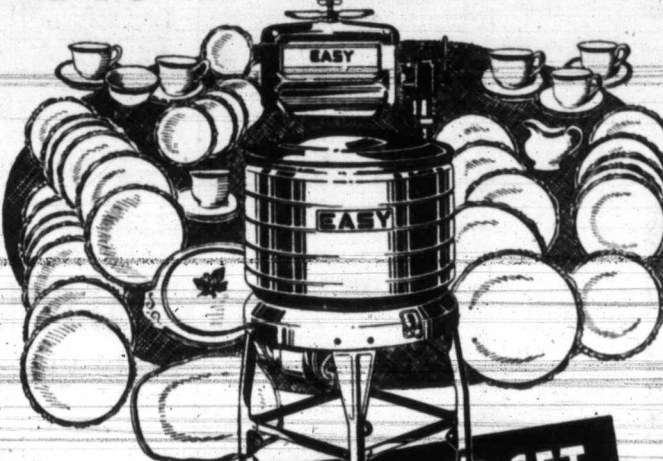

Bell played a valuable game, but of course he was not so showy as he would have been on the wing. John Watt, too, did that he still knows where the goal is, and it is gratifying that the United select have acknowledged the worth of this experienced player. But the most pleasant surprise of the forward line was furnished by young Tutthill, who played a whole of a game and gave both Watt and Bell a goal apiece.

On the other side Robbins at outside left played a clever game, and is not afraid to get after the defence. George Payne worried the opposition a lot, and Restall had plenty to do at the beginning of the game, and he did it well. It seemed to most of us that the City erred when they retired Smith for Roper in the second half. Smith was holding down the Wests' left wing nicely.

Sunday football is popular, judging by the goodly crowd at Esquimalt on Sunday afternoon. Again the Saanich forwards were not equal to the task they were called upon to perform, and by the end of the game the Dockers were able to take things very easily. Although he was not worried much, De Costa did his bit faithfully, and the game was a useful warm-up for next Saturday's encounter.

Joe Crowe played such a strong game that he earned a place for the St. Saviours game, taking Barnes' position. Another Esquimalt man, Joe West, also forced himself on to the notice of the powers that be, and has been picked as reserve full-back. He certainly deserves a game.

Americans had beaten Maroons, 2-1, in a National Hockey League game here.

Smith has been at odds with American owners since the season started over the terms of his contract, which he returned unsigned. He had a conference with President Frank Calder a week ago and then conferred with a representative of the New York club without coming to an agreement.

Smith had been seeking his release since there was no apparent hope of settling his contract difficulties, as he wanted freedom to make a deal for himself with some other N.H.L. club. It is unknown here if any other team in the league is interested in acquiring the hard-hitting Ottawa.

Wrestling Bout Ends in Riot in Eastern States

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5 (C.P.).—A wrestling match billed "for the world's heavyweight championship" ended in a riot last night when the referee, Bert Potts, of Chicago, was struck by one of the wrestlers. He suffered probable concussion of the brain.

Potts had awarded Everett Marshall, all, 222, the fall over Chief Sunoco, 318, South Carolina, in 57.15. As Marshall returned to his corner, Patrolman R. E. Sterling said, Sunoco rose and swung on Potts and then went after Marshall.

Fans and police swarmed into the ring and general fighting ensued. Police finally took Marshall and Sunoco to headquarters for questioning.

Profit-Taking at New York Mart Checks Advance

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP).—The rail shares, which crashed up to a new 1935 high Wednesday, halted abruptly today as traders clamped on the brakes.

The sudden stop, analysts said, reflected Wall Street's disposition to take profits following two successive days of new 1935 highs.

The Associated Press average of fifteen rail issues was down 0.5 of a point to 30.7, while the combined average of sixty shares declined 0.3 to 55.3. Transactions totaled 2,357,770 shares against 3,002,741 the previous day.

American Telephone stiffened 3-4 to 158-3/4 on the report that installations in November were more than 55,000 ahead of last year, compared with the gain of 16,700 over 1933 scored in November a year ago.

Chrysler at 84-1/8 and General Motors at 55-1/2 were fractionally higher. United States Steel was down 3-8 at 47-7/8. Westinghouse gave up 1-2 at 93.

All departments of the corporate bond market made progress. Advances ranged from small fractions to more than a point.

Foreign bonds were steady. City of Milan 6 1/2s gaining fractionally. Denmark 4 1/2s and Australian 5s gained, but German (Dawes) 7s slipped back slightly.

OILS AND BASE METALS HIGHER

Hudson Bay Features Mines At Toronto—Eldorado Gains Seven Cents

TORONTO, Dec. 5 (AP).—Base metal stocks registered another sharp upswing on the Toronto mining market today.

Oils were a feature of the trading. Royalty was bid up 4 points to 29, two points above its former high for the year. Home Oil had a gain of 22 cents to 83, Dalhousie 11 to 43, Nordon 4 to 24, Calgary & Edmonton 11 to 83 and Ajax 5 to 60.

Acme and Olga continued weak. Hudson Bay featured the copper group by rise, a point net to 23-5/8. Sudbury Basin added 15 cents. Mining Corporation advanced 16, Falconbridge 40 cents, Wabana 53-4, Noranda closed 1-4 lower at 46.

Eldorado closed at 1-48 for a gain of 7 cents. Castle lead 4 and the small issues were down fractions.

WHEAT PRICES DROP SLIGHTLY

Futures Drop in Dull Trading

at Winnipeg—Export

Sales Are Light

WINNIPEG, Dec. 5 (AP).—Market

operators saw little in the trade

news today to warrant their entering upon large-scale operations as wheat prices on the Winnipeg Grain

Exchange registered 1-4 to 1-2-cent losses.

Trading came almost to a halt at times. A sprinkling of selling set values lower, the December future

closing at 84 cents, 87-1/2, and July at 87-3/4 cents.

Export sale of a cargo of high-grade Canadian wheat to United Kingdom millers comprised most of the market's support.

Cash and coarse grains prices were quietly steady.

OIL SHARE PRICES SOAR

Big Gains Scored by Many Listings at Vancouver—Reno Leads Gains

VANCOUVER, Dec. 5 (AP).—Oil shares skyrocketed on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today, gaining ranging up to 22 points in the most active trading of recent months.

Norden was the active leader with a turnover of 44,000 shares and a gain of 4 to 25. Home shot up 22 to 82 and Ranchmen's followed with a gain of 21 to close at 116. Dalhousie jumped 12 to 45 and C. & E. 8 to 80. McLeod gained 4 at 50, Mill City 3 at 12, and A.P. Con. 2 at 9.

Royalite scored a gain of 5.05 to 29.05. Advances of the point were hung up by Model at 22, Freehold at 12 and Mercury at 14-1/2.

Reno continued to pace the gains with a further advance of 4 to 111 and Big Missouri gained 6 to 151. Sheep Creek gained 4 to 73 and Gruel Wilkine a point to 11-1/2.

Fidette weakened in late trading and fell 1/2 to 75, wiping out major gains of earlier in the week.

The base metals were generally strong. Bend Oreille gaining 4 to 88 and Noble Five 1-2 to 51-2. B.C. Nickel was unchanged at 21.

WHY ARE SEAPLANES FASTER

THE FASTEST AIRPLANE IN THE WORLD IS A SEAPLANE. ITS SPEED IS 440 M.P.H.

THE FASTEST LANDPLANE MADE 351.08 MILES PER HOUR.

A SPEED PLANE'S TOP SPEED IS ABOUT FOUR TIMES ITS LANDING SPEED, THUS SEAPLANES ARE FASTER BECAUSE IT IS POSSIBLE TO LAND MUCH FASTER WITH FLOATS ON WATER THAN WITH WHEELS ON LAND.

1935, Macchi Seaplane, Inc., N. Y.

WHEN we say that seaplanes are faster than landplanes, we do not mean that a given airplane can drag along a set of pontoons at greater speed than if this plane had a landing gear which would fold completely out of sight into its wings or fuselage. On the contrary, the land version of the world's fastest seaplane would be distinctly faster.

The landing speed is the answer. It is tough enough job to put a two-ton seaplane down on a perfect level and smooth body of water which stretches for miles in all directions.

A TEMPEST IN A TEACUP

A tempest in a teacup, a storm in a teacup, a whirlpool in a puddle—these and other similar interesting phrases have found favor in the English and other languages to express great excitement over small matters.

The original line is derived from a Roman proverb, "Excitabat enim fluctus in simpulosis" which, translated literally, means "He aroused a storm in a ladle." It is quoted by Cicero in his "De Legibus."

Also, in "The Deipnosophists," by Athenaeus, in circulation about two centuries before the birth of Christ, we find another instance of its usage in the paragraph: "Dorian, ridiculing the description of a tempest in the 'Nautilus' of Timotheus, said that he had seen a more formidable storm in a boiling saucepan."

Getting down to comparatively modern times, the Russian ruler, Paul I, is said to have characterized the troubles in Geneva at the end of the Eighteenth Century as a tempest in a glass of water.

The screen, it is often said, will be invaluable in teaching history. Two George Arliss stories may have some bearing on this point.

A Liverpool master asked: "What was the Duke of Wellington called before he was made a duke?" And a small boy promptly replied: "George Arliss, sir."

A little girl said that Disraeli was a great English statesman who went into the movies, and a New Zealand schoolboy, asked who purchased the Suez Canal shares for Britain, recalled a certain film and declared with perfect confidence: "Mr. Arliss."

PEDEN SLIPS IN BIKE RACE

Victorian and Partner Drops Four Laps Behind in New York Event

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Jerry Rodman and Cecil Yates, of Chicago, led the six-day bike race at Madison Square Garden as the grind passed the 100th hour at 1 a.m.

Letourneur teamed up with Brocardo shortly after midnight when Hurgen broke his collar bone in a spill and retired from the race.

Brocardo's partner, Jules Audy, of Montreal, also retired at that time. The new team was four laps in the rear.
